Stalker Convicted Of Possessing Sawed-Off Shotguns Faces Life In Prison

A 40-year-old Tampa man is facing life in prison after a jury convicted him. He was charged with being a felon in possession of firearms. He will be sentenced in January.

Former Hillsborough County Prosecutor-Deputy Chief counsel had stated that he would vote by telephone to break the tie.

However, from the onset of the meeting, Vice Chairwoman Mary Mulhern and Council members began discussing whether Chairman Miranda could cast a vote based on the Roberts Rules of Order. Councilman Frank Reddick suggested that they bypass the Roberts Rules of Order and allow Chairman Miranda to vote by telephone.

However, before they came to a decision, Chairman Miranda arrived during discussion to vote in person.

The new ordinance, which must have a final reading in two weeks is as follows:

Option 1 — Ban on street solicitation with exemption for newspaper sales; Option 2 — Ban on street solicitation; and Option 3 — Ban on street solicitation with exemption for newspaper sales and allowing express speech not requiring an exchange of objects.

Ms. Bernice Jackson-Frazier said her granddaughter, Shenika Davis, was a sweet girl and always helped her out.

"We sat together a lot and she'd help me clean up. We were together Tuesday evening, and she stayed until I went to bed."

That was the last time Ms. Jackson-Frazier saw her granddaughter.

According to Tampa Police, Shenika, 15, was walking to Middleton High School early Wednesday morning. At 6:35 a.m., she was crossing Hillsborough Avenue near the railroad tracks between 22nd Street and 30th Street when she was hit by a 1993 GMC Sierra truck driven by Tommy Murphy, 46. After being hit by Murphy, Shenika was allegedly dragged across the railroad tracks. She was pronounced dead at the scene.

When numerous Tampa Police officers arrived, many were shaken by the scene. Shenika's book bag and shoes were scattered all over Hillsborough Avenue.

Murphy told officials later he did not see Davis as she was wearing dark clothing. Police said Murphy will not be cited.

Ms. Jackson-Frazier said Shenika was looking forward to her Sweet 16 birthday next week, and was excited.

"She reminded me so much of her father. She was tall and just as athletic. She even walked like him."

"She always told me she wanted to join the Army so she could travel and earn a lot of money. She wanted a job, but was too young. She was also a pretty good student."

Ms. Jackson-Frazier said Shenika couldn't be any sweeter and was very intelligent.

This was Davis's first year at Middleton, after attending Sligh Junior High last year. Ms. Jackson-Frazier said she didn't want to attend Middleton at first.

"She wanted to go where she could ride a bus, but no buses pick up kids in this area for Middleton. She lived on 34th Street near Henry Avenue. Her mother's husband would take her and her sisters to school most mornings, but didn't take her Wednesday because her mother had to go to the doctor."

"This wasn't the first time Shenika walked to school, and she always took the same route."

Ms. Jackson-Frazier said she'll miss the visits from her granddaughter.

According to Tampa Police, Murphy told officials this wasn't the first time he'd hit a pedestrian, but didn't take her Wednesday.

When Murphy told officials later he did not see Davis as she was wearing dark clothing, Police said Murphy will not be cited.

Bay Area Natives Take On Broadway ... Together

BY TAMECA JOHNSON
Freelance Writer

Two well known and well respected heavyweights in the entertainment industry are together packing a powerful punch on Broadway. Actor Angela Bassett and Director/Producer Kenny Leon have joined forces in New York for the much anticipated play The Mountaintop.

The two have made a name for themselves in this country and beyond, but what many fans don’t know is they both began their rise to the top together, right here in the Tampa Bay area.

Leon and Bassett are both natives of Pinellas County. Leon is a 1974 graduate of Northeast High School in St. Petersburg. Bassett finished Boca Ceiga High in Gulfport in 1976. "I met Angela at Upward Bound in St. Pete," Leon explains during an interview with the Florida Sentinel during a break in play rehearsal in Manhattan. "I’ve known her a long time."

The Mountaintop is a fictional depiction of the final night of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.’s life, after he’d delivered his famous “I’ve Been to the Mountaintop” speech. It’s set entirely in room 306 of Memphis’ Lorraine Motel. Actor Samuel L. Jackson plays the King character. Bassett is his lone co-star. Thirty-year-old Katori Hall is the play’s writer. The Memphis native says she was inspired to pen the script after hearing stories told by her mother who grew up right around the corner from the Lorraine. "For me, the play is really a way to bring Dr. King closer. I feel my generation sees him as a statue or a portrait on a wall. I wanted to make Dr. King a figure of the present, so we could re-examine if we’re living the legacy."

The Mountaintop is unpredictable and filled with twists. Some call it a “human portrait” of Dr. King. Leon is the director and is considered one of the most influential African American directors in theater. His work includes the Broadway hit A Raisin in the Sun, starring Sean "Puffy" Combs and Phyllis Rashead, and August Wilson’s Fences, starring Denzel Washington. Fences led to his Tony Award nomination for Best Director.

Leon earned his undergraduate degree at Clark Atlanta University in Atlanta, GA. He was a freshman when he met Samuel L. Jackson there. Jackson was a senior at Morehouse taking theater courses on Clark’s campus.

Leon still has ties to St. Pete. His parents Johnnie and Ruth Holtzclaw, along with his siblings, will travel from the Bay area to New York for the play’s opening night. He hopes everyone will come out to see it because he feels the cast and crew are a special group of people doing something many will one day find historic. "This feels like the most important piece I’ve ever done," he says.

The play is in previews right now, with the official opening set for October 13. Tickets range from $70 to just over $175. For more information, go to www.thes- mountaintopplay.com.

Goal Is To Revive Original WTMP In 30 Days

30 days. That’s the goal set by those working to return R&B and community talk show programming to the Tampa area. The group overseeing the mission is hustling around the clock to make it happen.

The Tampa Organization of Black Affairs has spent the past month facilitating talks with potential investors to revive R&B, Classic Soul and community informational programming. "Our goal is to wrap up in a 30 day window, if it is going to be done," says James Ransom, spokesperson for TOBA.

WTMP was the area’s R&B leader for 57 years. Original programming was abruptly brought to a stop about five weeks ago when Davidsson Media Group took over the lease of the station, along with the call letters, website, FM 96.1 and AM 1150 dials.

The station currently has Spanish language format. Meanwhile, TOBA is still receiving letters of interest from potential investors. Those letters should be mail to: TOBA – Economic Development Committee, P. O. Box 3485, Tampa, Florida 33601.

TOBA is still talking to potential investors, including those who are said to be interested in buying the station for themselves. A phone call to the station itself results in a short recording of music and Pandelis Chrysanthou.

"I met Angela at Upward Bound in St. Pete," Leon says during an interview with the Florida Sentinel during a break in play rehearsal in Manhattan. "I’ve known her a long time."
BREAST CANCER MONTH: Not For Women Only

"THINK PINK!" Maybe, we should stop saying that. For, if you're a man, "thinking pink" may be a pill too hard to swallow. However, since October has become Breast Cancer Month, and since not only women, but men fall victim to this dreadful disease, it means both men and women should pay strict attention to the health of their breasts. The American Cancer Society (ACS) estimates more than 2,140 new cases of breast cancer among men will have been diagnosed in 2011. And of that number, 450 deaths will be among men. Two hundred thousand new cases of breast cancer will be diagnosed and 39,520 deaths will occur among women by the end of 2011, men need to be vigilant about examining their own breasts and nipples as well.

The fact that breast cancer among women is the most diagnosed cancer is a sober reality. Black women are more likely to die of breast cancer than white women. Not only must men overcome the disease, but they must overcome the macho fantasy of breasts as a female symbol. Therefore, we urge all of our adult readers (men as well as women) to conduct self-breast examinations and women to get mammograms. It's not about sex. It's about survival.

President Obama: For Folks With Short Memories

It would seem President Barack Obama cannot win for losing. No, he's not Jesus. But most certainly, our newest president has felt the nails of undue persecution just short of crucifixion. Who knows why? While many Americans may have viewed President Obama as a New World "Messiah," come to clean up the economic mess left over by a bumbling Bush administration, certainly the messiah-seekers seemed to have tacked by a Negrophobic, Xenophobic federal Congress. Look and behold, such things have indeed, come to pass. So, as singer Marvin Gay might ask, "What's going on in America?" Obviously, what's going on is that there are many, that have forgotten President Obama's hands could always be tied by a Negrophobic, Xenophobic federal Congress. Lo and behold, such things have indeed, come to pass. Then a very strange thing happened. America elected a president whom GOP representatives and many Democratic representatives refused to support... not occasionally, but almost overwhelmingly. Was this retaliation against the President of the United States or against the voters of the United States?
CUPERTINO, CA - Steve Jobs saw the future and led Apple into a world it had never imagined. He took technology from garages to pockets, took entertainment from discs to bytes and turned his vision into extensions of the people who use them.

Jobs, who founded and ran Apple, told us what we needed before we knew it. He moved the earth by exalting the spirit of American ingenuity.

Jobs had battled cancer in 2004 and underwent a liver transplant in 2009 after taking a leave of absence for unspecified health problems. He returned in 1997 to rescue the company. During his second stint, it grew into the most valuable technology company in the world with a market value of $850 billion. Almost all that wealth has been created since Jobs returned.

Jobs in 2001 launched the iPod, which offered "1,000 songs in your pocket." Over the next 10 years, its white earphones and thumb-dial control seemed to become more ubiquitous than the wristwatch. In 2007 came the touchscreen iPhone, joined a year later by Apple's App Store, where developers could sell apps which made the phone a device not just for making calls but also for managing money, editing photos, playing games and social networking. And in 2010, Jobs introduced the iPad, a tablet-sized, all-touch computer that took off even though market analysts said no one really needed one.

By 2011, Apple had become the second-largest company of any kind in the United States by market value. In August, it briefly surpassed Exxon Mobil as the most valuable company.

Jobs got into two other companies: Next, a computer maker, and Pixar, a computer-animation studio that he bought from George Lucas for $10 million. Pixar, ultimately the more successful venture, seemed at first a bottomless money pit. Then in 1995 came "Toy Story," the first computer-animated full-length feature. Jobs used its success to negotiate a sweeter deal with Disney for Pixar's next two films, "A Bug's Life" and "Toy Story 2."

Jobs sold Pixar to The Walt Disney Co. for $7.4 billion in stock in a deal that got him a seat on Disney's board and $38 million shares of stock that accounted for most of his fortune. Forbes magazine estimated Jobs was worth $7 billion in a survey last month. Jobs is survived by his biological mother; his sister, Erin, Reed and Eve. Jobs's three children, Lisa Brennan-Jobs, his daughter with Brennan; wife Laurene, and their three children, Erin, Reed and Eve.

The Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth, who helped lead the civil rights movement, has died, the Birmingham Civil Rights Institute said Wednesday. He was 89.

Shuttlesworth is among the iconic figures honored in the International Civil Rights Walk of Fame at the Martin Luther King Jr. National Historic Site in Atlanta. King once called Shuttlesworth "the most courageous civil rights fighter in the South."

When the U.S. Supreme Court ruled against segregated busing in Montgomery, Alabama, Shuttlesworth rallied the membership of a group he founded in May 1956 — the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights — to challenge the practice of segregated busing in Birmingham.

Shuttlesworth also helped found the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, with King and other civil rights leaders.

The New York Daily News reports:

Some city teens fly to their parents' homeland for what they think is a vacation and wind up stuck in a marriage against their will. Others face beatings or worse if they refuse a wedding here - sometimes by parents who stand to gain financially by the union.

Wisdom vs. Strength

Many people underestimate the power of having wisdom. There are a lot of prayers being made and so few of them are requesting wisdom. The commonly prayed for things are: healing, peace, joy, strength, and favor. The church must realize that wisdom can help you have all those things and more.

Ecclesiastes 9:13-18 shows us the power of having wisdom. It further shows how people do not value the wisdom of others but instead glorify strength and power.

The writer describes the place needed to save the city. The scripture describes the man as poor, but wise. He did a great thing of saving the city, but the people did not recognize the poor man (vs. 13).

Verse 16 says that the poor man’s wisdom is despised, and his words are no longer heeded. The wisdom of old has been and is far greater than what we are working with today. There are many people who are forgetting the wisdom of old that built churches with no money and no mortgage, but relying on strength and education that has the church in foreclosure.

Wisdom is key and vital. The quiet words of the wise are more to be heeded than the shouts of a ruler of fools (vs.12). Wise people do not speak loud or a lot. People who have wisdom can talk soft and seldom and speak volumes when they open their mouth.

In the city there was a man who had what was needed to save the city. The scripture describes the man as poor, but wise. He did a great thing of saving the city, but the people did not recognize the poor man (vs. 13).

New Leadership Elected To East Tampa Partnership Board

BY LEON B. CREWS
Sentinel Staff Writer

On Tuesday morning, the East Tampa Community Revitalization Partnership’s Community Advisory Committee held elections to select a new chair and vice-chair.

For the past 8 years, Ms. Evangeline Best has chaired the East Tampa group and numerous new businesses and projects have been completed during her tenure.

In a unanimous vote, Pastor Essie Sims, Jr. was elected as the new chair, and Ms. Richedean Hills-Akbar was elected the new vice-chair in a 5-4 vote.

Pastor Sims founded Telling The Truth Ministries in Highland Pines, and said he knows this is a huge responsibility, but he’s committed to helping East Tampa move forward.

“I plan on working closely with elected officials and the former chair, Ms. Best. I want to bring everyone to the table to get their input and create unity.”

Pastor Sims is employed by the City of Tampa and has worked in East Tampa for 7 years.

Pastor Sims said his focus now is to bring the past and future together, because they are going to need everyone to make this work.

Ms. Hills-Akbar said she feels she’s ready to help her community better itself.

“I’d like to see the residents play a bigger role in taking care of their community. We have people moving out of East Tampa and not many moving in. We need to reverse that trend.”

Ms. Hills-Akbar grew up in East Tampa and her family’s history goes back 100 years.

Ms. Best, who agreed to stay on as an advisor for the next year, said she fully supports Pastor Sims and she’s confident the ETCRP is in good hands.

October Is Head Start Awareness Month

The Hillsborough County Head Start/Early Head Start Program has experienced great success. As the program enters into October, Head Start Awareness Month, it is important to note some recent accomplishments by the program. The Hillsborough County Head Start/Early Head Start program has been recognized for excellence four times by the National Head Start Association. As a result, the program is considered a Gold Seal High Quality Head Start Program. The program is also the recipient of the Florida Head Start Association Image Award for receiving national recognition for quality services to Florida’s children, families and communities in April 2010.

In January 2010, the program’s director, Louis Finney, Jr., was appointed to Governor Charlie Crist’s statewide early childhood advisory committee. He was reappointed in 2011 by Governor Rick Scott to represent the State of Florida for early childhood funding and continued collaborations.

Also, the August 2011 audit of Departmental Purchase Orders had no significant findings.

Three events have been scheduled in recognition of Head Start Awareness Month.

On October 5th at 9 a.m., County Commissioner Les Miller will issue a proclamation that will recognize October as Head Start Awareness Month. He will also recognize the program receiving clean audits for 2011 and getting the most awards possible from the Florida Head Start Association for 2010-2011.

On October 15th at Rowlett Park at 10 a.m., there will be free health services provided to 1,000 head start children and families at Shelter 3202. There will be food and games for the children.

On October 19th at 10:30 a.m. at the Joe Chillura Courthouse Square, there will be a special recognition of Head Start Legends, Idelia Sanchez, Doris Ross Reddick, Evangelist Best, Jan Platt and Ann Porter just to name a few.

Basketball Wives Star Booed At Charity Appearance

The “Basketball Wives” star that everyone loves to hate, stopped by Atlanta University Center to show support for HBCUs. But she was not greeted with the same love she has for them. Before she even had the chance to finish uttering Claxton’s name, a young lady introducing the star was drowned out by boos from the crowd.

The audience was extremely disappointed to see the only basketball wife that is still actually married, but in an attempt to redeem the situation, the event organizer stepped out to calm the crowd and demand respect. But Meeka just replied with, “It’s all good, I feel yall. Haters doing good.”

The same young lady who introduced her responded with “We ain’t got no haters here.” Really? Well anyway, besides that, the ex-reality show wife is still a woman who stands on her own two feet. She’s a designer and founder of Allure Realty Group and also holds a degree from Hofstra University. She’s worth $7 million, without her husband.

Now, if you haven’t been keeping up, on “BBall Wives” Meeka’s best known for her backstabbing, social jacking, and gossiping mouth. She also had a weave-pulling fight with fellow cast member Tami Roman in the Rome, Italy episode.

Claxton filed a lawsuit against her “enemy” and declared never to return to the show. But why do we have the feeling that despite the rumors that she’s been fired, she’s likely to come back next season.

Josh Freeman Helps Rescue Bucs Again

Josh Freeman, in his third NFL season, has developed a reputation as a second-half quarterback. And with his Buccaneers on a national TV stage Monday night, facing a reeling Colts team, he showed why.

After a lackluster first half left Tampa Bay down 10-7 against the winless Colts, Freeman turned it on. He first found Preston Parker for a 13-yard TD to tie the game at 17 in the third quarter, then scrambled for a critical first down on 3rd-and-4 late in the fourth - a play that set the stage for LeGarrette Blount’s 32-yard TD run, which stood as the game-winner in the Bucs’ 24-17 victory.

ESPN Yanks Hank Williams Jr. For Comparing Pres. Obama To Hitler

BRISTOL, Conn. — ESPN is pulling Hank Williams Jr.’s classic intro song from its broadcast of Monday night’s NFL game after the country singer famous for the line “Are you ready for some football?” used an analogy to Adolf Hitler in discussing Pres. Barack Obama.

In an interview Monday morning on Fox News’ “Fox & Friends,” Williams said of Obama’s outing on the links with House Speaker John Boehner: “It’d be like Hitler playing golf with (Israel’s Prime Minister Benjamin) Netanyahu.”

Asked to clarify, Williams said: “They’re the enemy,” adding that by “they” he meant Obama and Vice President Joe Biden.

“While Hank Williams Jr. is not an ESPN employee, we recognize that he is closely linked to our company through the open to ‘Monday Night Football,’” ESPN said in a statement. “We are extremely disappointed with his comments, and as a result we have decided to pull the open from tonight’s telecast.”

ESPN did not say whether the intro, synonymous with “Monday Night Football” since 1989, would be used again after this week’s Buccaneers-Colts game.

The song, “All My Rowdy Friends Are Here On Monday Night” is a remixed version of his 1984 hit “All My Rowdy Friends are Coming Over Tonight.” The version won Williams four Emmy Awards in the early 1990s as the opening theme to “Monday Night Football,” then on ABC.

Bucs Focusing On Small Things After Third Victory; Face 49ers At 4 p.m. Sunday

Tampa Bay coach Raheem Morris has a lot to savor after the Buccaneers’ third straight victory of the season Monday night.

In the 24-17 win over the struggling Indianapolis Colts, the team overcame more than 100 yards in penalties, and showed the kind of late-game resolve they’ll need to make a run to the playoffs.

The Buccaneers’ schedule gets tough - including two games with co-NFC South leader New Orleans in the next month - and fixing lingering issues are just as much on their minds.

Onensively that means running the ball as well as they did Monday and eliminating penalties that take points off the scoreboard and could end up being costly in close games.

“Survive and advance. That’s what we’re after,” Morris said. “The thing you want to do is come out and run the football, control the game, and we did a nice job of that.

The Vikings have the 31st ranked passing offense in the NFL. And McNabb is ranked 30th in yards passing and 22nd in completion percentage.

Donovan McNabb

EDEN PRAIRIE, Minn. — Even after an 0-4 start in which Donovan McNabb has struggled to move the Minnesota Vikings offense, coach Leslie Frazier says it still isn’t time to turn things over to rookie Christian Ponder.

Frazier says the team is looking at making several changes, both to personnel and schemes, to try and get the Vikings their first win of the season. But he also says that switching quarterbacks is not currently under consideration.

The Vikings have the 31st ranked passing offense in the NFL. And McNabb is ranked 30th in yards passing and 22nd in completion percentage.

Vikings Sticking With McNabb
After last season, the Tampa Bay Rays lost top closer, Soriano, top reliever, Benoit, slugger, Martinez, base stealing deluxe, Carl Crawford and their starting shortstop. All of these players left to go to teams with big checkbooks. The Rays replaced these players with names like: Fuld, Peralta, Gomes, Jennings and Kotchman.

Heck, who are these guys? Well, the Rays took these players and contended for the Division Championship and came back from nine games to make the American League playoffs.

The Rays ran out of steam and lost close games to the powerful Texas Rangers (5-1).

Congratulations go out to the Rays for an outstanding patchwork season.

MIAMI — For the past year, Angel Rosado cheered for what LeBron James and Dwyane Wade were doing with the Miami Heat. On Monday, the roles shifted.

When James and Wade tweeted their appreciation for fans who were camping out at Florida International last year, Angel Rosado, a 32-year-old man and his wife were talking about. The couple actually went on sale.

The Heat were the very first to arrive at FIU to get in line, just over 16 hours before tickets actually went on sale.

They’ll be on separate teams Saturday at FIU, which figures to be the site of quite an NBA spectacle.

What is not seen
Is the Lord who heard the prayer
That teacher's spirit
Will make the difference
In a child's heart today.
What is not seen
Is the Lord who went before
With the wind at his back
To make the harvest grow.

Tampa Man Dies Of Brain Cancer

BY IRIS B. HOLTON
Sentinel City Editor

A Tampa man died earlier this week, after losing a battle with cancer. Patrick “Donnie” Ebanks was 49 years old.

Mr. Ebanks was born on the island of Guanaja, on October 31, 1962. As a youngster, his parents, George and Nellis Ebanks, relocated to their family United States.

Doctors discovered that Mr. Ebanks had a brain mass last year. The mass was later determined to be cancerous. He lost the battle with cancer on Monday, his wife, Mrs. Stephanie White Ebanks said.

Mr. Ebanks graduated from Norfolk State University with a degree in Construction Management. He later formed his own company, Ebanks Painting & Renovation, and worked as an independent contractor until his illness prevented him from continuing.

He served a tour of duty as a member of the U.S. Marines Corps and was a member of Omega Psi Fraternity Inc.

Mr. Ebanks and his wife were married on July 7, 2007 (7/7/07) and have a blended family of 4 children.

After the diagnoses, Mr. Ebanks and his wife created a not-for-profit organization known as “Step-N-Style celebration of life.”

Funeral services for Mr. Ebanks will be held on Saturday, October 8, at 11 a.m., at Gonzalez Funeral Home Chapel, 7200 N. Dale Mabry. Gonzalez Funeral Home is in charge of handling arrangements.

Student Charged With Sexual Battery

A 16-year-old high school student was arrested and charged with attacking a fellow student. The offense reportedly took place during school hours.

According to police, the 16-year-old victim had ahall pass to go to her locker. She reportedly met a fellow student in the hallway.

The victim told police, the suspect began following her around the hallway “as if to stalk her.” Once she passed outside of the gym, the suspect is alleged to have forced her into a nearby boys bathroom.

At that point, he allegedly forced her to have sex with him. The suspect then left the bathroom and returned to his class. The victim contacted the School Resource Officer and the student, identified as Joshua Bynum, was taken into custody.

Bynum allegedly originally denied having contact with the victim or attacking her. He then changed his story. Both versions of his statements were inconsistent with physical evidence from the medical examination, police said.

Juvenile Given 4 Life Sentences Gets Second Chance

As a result of this new ruling, juveniles throughout the country have been given a second chance. One such inmate is Kenneth Young, 24, who was convicted of several robberies in 2000. He was 14 years old at the time, but was sentenced to 4 life sentences.

Young appeared before Judge Daniel Steet, who converted his sentence to 30 years. He has already served 11 years and is considered a model prisoner.

Boy Scouts Help Tampa Housing Authority Residents

BY LEON B. CREWS
Sentinel Staff Writer

After two members of Boy Scout Troop 805 lost everything in a fire that gutted their North Boulevard home, Second Class Scout Jabari Whetsel wondered how to prevent a similar event from happening to someone else. Whetsel asked what could be done and his fellow scouts do to make a difference. His grandmother, Charlene White, a Troop Committee Member, contacted Tampa Fire Rescue and its service project was born.

On Saturday, September 24th at 9 a.m., the troop met at the Tampa Housing Authority Resource Center and worked until noon.

Scoutmaster Tony Rabago also transported Boy Scouts from Robles Park, C. Blythe Andrews and The Oaks of Riverview to assist in the service project. They canvassed the community by doing a door-to-door survey and inspection regarding smoke detectors.

Three Boy Scouts, accompanied by a minimum of two trained adult leaders, distributed fire prevention and safety literature within their community. The survey also determined if residents had working smoke detectors and, if not, whether they needed assistance picking up free detectors at local fire stations.

The Scouts also delivered smoke detectors to the elderly who were unable to leave their homes.

Rabago is the Scoutmaster for 10 units and all of those in public housing.

Second Annual Tampa Bay Veg Fest Planned

On Saturday, October 15th, the Second Annual Tampa Bay Veg Fest will take place from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. The event will be held at Cotanechose Fort Brooke Park, 601 Old Water Street, in Downtown Tampa. The event is free and open to the public.

This event is the only vegetarian and vegan festival held in the Tampa Bay area.

Several key speakers will be on hand to discuss nutrition and offer tips on healthy living. They are:

Dr. Milton R. Mills, Associate Director of Preventive Medicine for Physicians Committee for Responsible Medicine. The organization is an international group of doctors and other individuals who are dedicated to improving health care.

Dr. Mills practices outpatient clinic-based medicine in Northern Virginia. He also works as a Critical Care Physician at Fairfax Hospital in Fairfax, Virginia.

Dr. Mills specializes in Internal Medicine and HIV Disease, and the challenges of practicing medicine in the inner city, and the special needs of medical and nutritional requirements of HIV and AIDS patients.

He also focuses on the relationship between nutrition and chronic disease. His practice concentrates on the unique healthcare needs of minorities.

Ms. Tracey McQuirter, M. P. H., is a respected public health nutrition expert, speaker, and author. She is also the co-founder of the Black Vegetarian Society of New York.

Ms. McQuirter is also the author of "By Any Greens Necessary: A Revolutionary Guide for Black Women Who Want to Eat Great, Get Healthy, Lose Weight, and Look Phat."

"As a vegan for 23 years, I know what it’s like to experience vibrant health. But I also know this makes me rare among U. S. women, where up to 80% of us are overweight and up to 50% are obese."

She further stated that these chronic diseases could be prevented and often reversed by eating plenty of plant-based foods such as fresh fruits and vegetables.

Other speakers include Ms. Roberta Schiff, of Doctors and Others: The Veganization of Society, and Ms. Ellen Jaffe Jones, a former news reporter.

This year, the event will feature Los Angeles-based non-profit Florida Voices for Animals, with Whole Foods Market serving as title sponsor.

Black Men And Depression: The Top 8 Signs

Common signs of depression in men can include:

1. Sleeping Too Much Or Too Little - Sleep problems such as insomnia, waking up very early in the morning, or excessive sleeping are common depression symptoms.

2. Pain - Health problems such as constipation or diarrhea, as well as headaches and back pain, are common in people who are depressed.

3. Loss of Focus - When a man’s ability to process information, thereby impairing concentration on work or other issues.

4. Anger - Some men manifest depression by being hostile, angry, or aggressive. Anger and hostility are different than irritability.

5. Stress - Men might be more likely to report symptoms of depression as stress. It’s not that they have more stress; it’s that it’s more socially acceptable.

Research has shown that prolonged exposure to stress can lead to changes both in the body and brain, which can in turn lead to depression.

6. Substance Abuse - Substance abuse frequently accompanies depression. Research has shown that alcoholics are almost twice as likely to suffer from major depression as people without a drinking problem.

7. Sexual Dysfunction - Depression is a common reason for loss of desire and erectile dysfunction (ED), and it’s one symptom that men are inclined not to report.

However, ED can be the result of other medical conditions or medications (including antidepressants), and ED by itself does not signify depression.

8. Suicidal Thoughts - Women are more likely to attempt suicide, but men are more than four times as likely to die if they do attempt suicide. One reason is that men tend to choose more lethal methods.

Older men are at highest risk for suicide, and doctors may miss depression symptoms in this group.

Acupuncture Can Ease Your Pain

A study in China finds that acupuncture treatment is a safe and effective therapy for neck pain as well as other aches/pains. The study revealed that acupuncture relieves pain intensity and can improve the quality of daily life.

The STD You Don't Know About

A sexually transmitted infection called Trichomonas Vaginalis is more common than experts believe, especially among African American women. The infection is spread by sexual contact and can be diagnosed by a test of vaginal secretions or a urine sample. Once diagnosed, treatment is easy and affordable. However, it is important to remember that if you have been diagnosed with Trichomonas, you should not engage in sexual activity until you have been treated.

Symptoms Of Trichomonas

Trichomonas Vaginalis, also called trichomoniasis, is a parasite. Both men and women can be infected. In women, the vagina is most often infected. In men, the urethra is the most common site of infection. Trichomonas is spread sexually. Those infected are often not aware. Fifty percent of women may not have symptoms. That may also apply to men. Some infected men report an irritation inside the penis or slight burning with urination or during ejaculation. Infected women may report an odorous vaginal discharge. The infection can also cause itching in the genital area and burning with urination.

Medicinal Mushrooms

Mushrooms are some of the most effective immune-supportive supplements in the natural food industry. Shiitake Mushrooms are loaded with an AHCC (Active Hexose Correlated Compound), an extract that fights off bacterial infection and flu viruses.

Reishi Mushrooms are helpful for heart health, including normal cholesterol levels, blood pressure, and circulation support. They contain a high amount of polysaccharides which are essential for proper functioning of the immune system. They are also used as a tonic and a sedative.

Everyday Ways To Reduce Your Diabetes Risk

Smoking - Smoking is unhealthy and if you stop smoking you decrease your risk of developing diabetes by as much as 30%. Physical Activity - A sedentary lifestyle greatly increases the risk of diabetes, and only 20 minutes of sweat-inducing exercise at least 3-4 times per week can greatly reduce your potential for the disease. Healthy Diet - Eating a heart-healthy and sensible diet can reduce the risk of diabetes by about 15%. Emphasize fresh fruits, vegetables, whole grains and lean proteins while avoiding processed, fried and fatty foods. Alcohol - Drinking more than 1 drink a day (women) and 2 drinks a day (men) boosts the probability of developing diabetes.

Spotlight on Robotic Surgery

Minimally Invasive Surgery (sometimes called laparoscopic surgery) is done through small incisions. Using specialized techniques, miniature cameras with microscopes, tiny fiber-optic flashlights and high definition monitors, USF Gynecology in many surgeries perform surgery through an incision that can often be concealed by a small band-aid.

USF MINIMALLY INVASIVE GYNECOLOGIC SURGERY

Minimally Invasive Surgery is a specialized form of minimally invasive surgery that has a growing use at USF Gynecology. For patients, minimally invasive surgery means less trauma to the body, less blood loss, smaller surgical scars and less need for pain medication. Patients leave the hospital sooner after minimally invasive surgery and return to normal activities sooner than with conventional open surgery.

Minimally invasive surgery is performed both on an inpatient and outpatient basis.

Shock, Sorrow After Teen Cheerleader’s Death In L.A.

ANGELA GETTIS

LOS ANGELES — When students return for school Monday morning at Washington Prep, they’ll be greeted by crisis counselors and missing one of their beloved classmates, a cheerleader who died after collapsing during a football game.

Angela Gettis, a 16-year-old sophomore at the school, was rallying the crowd Friday night in the fourth quarter of a tie game at Fremont High School when she suffered an apparent cardiac arrest, Los Angeles Unified School District spokesman Tom Waldman said.

The game stopped as coaches and trainers ran to help. Bystanders performed CPR while waiting for paramedics to arrive. Gettis died about three hours later at a hospital, becoming the second teenage girl from Los Angeles district schools to die over the weekend after a dramatic campus incident.

Yes! Rev. Sharpton Blasts Rick Perry’s NiErhead Ranch

REV. AL SHARPTON

Texas governor Rick Perry’s campaign was in damage control mode after a Washington Post article revealed the racial slur that was used to describe a ranch where Perry and his father once hunted.

Rev. Al Sharpton told POLITICO he plans to be “all over” the story on his MSNBC show on Monday afternoon.

“At worst, he either thought it was something he could identify with and even have some bit of irony,” Sharpton said. “At best, he’s insensitive. How can someone who would seek the highest office in the land be so insensitive to the implications of that name?”

Sharpton predicted the issue will harm Perry among Republicans.

Couple Arrested in Death Of Adopted Daughter

HANA WILLIAMS

Police arrested a Washington couple on charges of homicide by abuse and assault-charges months after their 13-year-old adopted daughter was found dead at their residence.

Larry P. Williams and Carri D. Williams’ adopted daughter Hana, who was adopted from Ethiopia in 2008 and came to America in search for a better life, was found in the family’s backyard in Sedro-Woolley, Wash. naked and face down in mud in May.

According to court documents, the teen was systematically beaten, starved, forced to shower outside, sleep in a barn and use an outdoor toilet as punishment for being “rebellious.”

Pres. Obama: Congress Should Vote On Jobs Bill In October

President Barack Obama at speaks during a Cabinet meeting as U.S. Secretary of State Hillary Clinton listens in the Cabinet Room October 3, 2011 at the White House in Washington, DC.

Obama urged Congress to pass a jobs bill during his statement.

WASHINGTON — President Barack Obama demanded Monday that Congress vote on his jobs legislation package this month despite signs that the full measure faces stiff resistance. “I’m ready to sign it,” the president said.

A leading House Republican, however, says that while lawmakers will vote on elements of the president’s jobs bill, his broad $447 billion proposal will not be considered in its entirety.

“This all or nothing approach is unreasonable,” said House Majority Leader Eric Cantor of Virginia.

The White House says it is not prepared to bargain away aspects of the bill at this point, and senior administration officials seemed intent on putting Republicans on the spot by insisting on a vote on the complete Pres. Obama bill. Since introducing the bill three weeks ago, the president has mounted a steady public campaign on behalf of his bill.

Court Turns Away Lawsuit Over Pres. Obama’s Eligibility

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court has turned away another challenge to President Barack Obama’s eligibility to be president.

The high court on Monday refused without comment to hear a challenge brought by conservative activist Alan Keyes and other members of the American Independent Party. They contend Pres. Obama wasn’t eligible to be president because he was not born in the U.S., and thus not a citizen, U.S. courts, and the Supreme Court, have previously thrown out similar suits.

Keyes wanted the certification of Pres. Obama’s victory halted in California until there was documented proof by a state official that he was eligible to be president. The Supreme Court of California threw out the lawsuit.

The case is Keyes v. Bowen, 10-1351.
