By Gwendolyn Hayes
Sentinel Editor

A Bay Area father became the #1 Dancing Dad of the 8 selected from around the country. His dance was voted online to be the best. He won the $5,000 grand prize. And, there are no stipulations as to what he plans to do with the winnings.

Dr. Craig Bythewood entered the "Daddy Of All Dance-Off" contest Saturday, June 9th at Citrus Park Mall.

Dr. Bythewood, a professor of Finance and Economics at Florida Southern College in Lakeland, was one of 12 contestants (5 other African-American) in Tampa who competed for Hallmark's "Daddy Of All Dance-Off." Tampa was one of 8 cities across the country where the dance contest was being held. The event was sponsored by Hallmark Cards, Inc. in recognition of Father's Day.

Today show, "I'm really excited about that," he said. According to a Hallmark press release, Dr. Bythewood said, "it's been amazing. Current students, old students, my family and friends all have been contacting me to show their support. I never would have thought a dance contest would allow me to connect and reconnect with so many people I care about," he said. "I happen to be a huge Hallmark greeting card fan, and I have a passion for dancing, too, so it was really interesting for these two worlds to come together."

With a limited number of rooms to choose from, Dr. Bythewood selected MC Hammer's 'U Can't Touch This' that he gained the audience to vote for his dance.

Other winners came from Charlotte, NC, Denver, CO, Hartford, CN, Houston, TX, Phoenix, AZ, Sacramento, CA and St. Louis, MO.

A graduate of Howard University, Bythewood said he was a member of a break dance group that called themselves, "The Fresh Force" while a student at Howard. He has always been known for his dancing, but this was his first official competition.

"As a matter of fact, it was the wife of a good friend of mine who called on Friday night to tell me about the dance contest. They thought I'd be perfect for the competition. So, I was there Saturday morning for the registration at 10 a.m. and the competition at 2 p.m.," he stated. "I had no idea I'd be the winner."

Dr. Bythewood is the divorced father of 3 daughters: Mecca, 5 years old; Nilaja, 3 and Niele, 2. He is the son of Ms. Corene Collins.

Tango poses inside the studio at Bedrock Entertainment

By Leon B. Crews
Sentinel Staff Writer

Tampa’s own Tango has been busy. Already known as a successful recording artist, and after appearing on the reality show, "I Love New York," Tango became a household name.

Making periodic visits to his hometown of Tampa, Tango has been on the move, traveling to the opening of a new club in Atlanta, to New York for more appearances and interviews, then to the West Coast where he'll make an appearance at The BET Awards Nomination Special, then the BET Awards on June 26th.

"When I'm home, I always try to let my people know how much I appreciate what they've done for me, and how I hold everyone dear to my heart. 'I've been so busy lately, I hardly have the time to say hello to people I'm very close to."

Tango was in Tampa a couple of weeks ago to introduce Nicki Bondz, a new soloist, and announce the release of his new solo CD.

"I will always have projects going on in Tampa. I just have projects coming with McPantha Productions, and my own company, Bedrock Entertainment. If it weren’t for my manager, Chanel Hansen, I would not be able to keep up with all this."

Tango will be returning to the area the middle of July, and will hang around for a while.

"I think I’ll take a deep breath, then get started for the home stretch. I’m still working with VH-1 on my own reality show, and you probably will be seeing me again on VH-1 as an artist and actor."

Tampa Brothers Die Within Two Hours Of Each Other

BY IRIS B. HOLTON
Sentinel Staff Writer

One Tampa family was thrown into emotional upheaval last Thursday when two members died within two hours of each other. The men are members of a popular West Tampa family.

Mr. Leroy “Bip Bop” Marion Cusseaux and Mr. Grover Cusseaux, Sr., passed without knowing that the other had died, according to Mrs. Cheryl Cusseaux. The men were members of the popular Cusseaux family of West Tampa. Their sister, Mrs. Margaret Cusseaux Mount, is the last of the 11 children born to the late Mr. and Mrs. Johnny and Annie Cusseaux.

Mr. Leroy Cusseaux became ill earlier this year and had undergone surgery. He never recovered from his illness. He was at the Home Association at the time of his death on Thursday morning. Mr. Cusseaux attended the public schools of Hillsborough County. As a young man, Mr. Cusseaux obtained employment with the Palma Ceia Golf and Country Club and worked there for more than 50 years. Mr. Cusseaux, who was 75, continued to work until he became ill. He never retired.

“He was an unassuming, very quiet man. He was not much for pomp and circumstance. But he was a very, very wise man,” Mrs. Cusseaux said.

Mr. Cusseaux is survived by two daughters, other family members and friends. His funeral services were held last Saturday at Aikens Funeral Home.

Funeral services for Mr. Grover Cusseaux, Sr., will be held on Saturday at the 34th Street Church Of God, where he was an active member. Mr. Cusseaux is survived by his wife, Mrs. Fredric Jean Cusseaux and two sons, as well as other family members and friends.

Mr. Cusseaux, 88, had suffered a stroke and was hospitalized at St. Joseph’s Hospital. He died as a result of complications from the stroke.

Mr. Cusseaux retired from Eastern Airlines, where he worked for more than 30 years as a Sky Cap. He was described as being very active in the community and in his church. He attended the local schools of Hillsborough County.

Mr. Cusseaux was a connoisseur of antique cars and was one of the first African Americans in Tampa to own a Rolls Royce. He had several antique cars, Mrs. Cusseaux said.

Member Of Well-Known West Tampa Family Dies

BY IRIS B. HOLTON
Sentinel Staff Writer

A member of one of the largest families in West Tampa died Thursday morning. Mr. Louis Bostick, Sr., had celebrated his 69th birthday on April 13th. He had a history of heart disease and was under the care of his physician at the time of his death, his daughter, Mrs. Glenda Bostick Coleman said.

Family members discovered the body of Mr. Bostick, Sr., the son of the late Jetie B. and Minnie Lee Bostick Wilds, at his West Tampa home. Mr. Bostick was the oldest of 12 children born to the couple. He is the first of the siblings to pass.

A Tampa native, Mr. Bostick attended the public schools of Hillsborough County. After completing his studies at Harlem Elementary School, he continued his education at Carver Jr. High School. Mr. Bostick earned credits from both Don-Thompson and Blake High School to obtain his diploma.

He met and married Mrs. Gwendolyn Bostick. The couple was married for 47 years.

“My father loved Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., and could quote any of his speeches. Dr. King was his idol. He also knew his Bible and he just loved people,” Mrs. Coleman said.

Mr. Bostick obtained employment with Eastern Airlines in 1966, and worked as a Sky Cap at Tampa International Airport. He later transferred to Atlanta, Georgia, where he continued to work for several years. He retired after 28 years of service in 1992.

Mr. Bostick is survived by his wife, 6 children, 8 grandchildren, 8 brothers, 3 sisters, and a host of other family members and friends.

Funeral services for Mr. Bostick will be held at 11 a.m., on Saturday at Ray Williams Funeral Chapel. Ray Williams Funeral Home is in charge of handling arrangements.

My Point Of View
By Iris Holton

What Is Juneteenth?

This time of year, we often hear the term, \textit{Juneteenth}.

Surprisingly, many Americans have no idea what the term means or how it came about.

The word “Juneteenth” actually refers to the date, June 19th. And, it reflects the oldest known celebration that focuses on the end of slavery in the United States.

The origin of the word date back at the end of the Civil War. During those days, there were no telephones and news usually spread by word of mouth.

So, it was not uncommon for people to learn information months later.

This was the case with the end of the Civil War. Slaves in Texas had no idea that the war had ended and they had been freed on January 1, 1863 when President Abraham Lincoln signed the \textit{Emancipation Proclamation}.

In April of 1865, General Robert E. Lee surrendered to Union soldiers. Two months later, on or about June 19, 1865, (some 2½ years later), when \textit{Major General Gordon Granger} and his troops of Union soldiers landed in Galveston, the slaves learned of their freedom.

As the news spread, slaves in all the plantation areas with many seeking freedom in the north. Others set about finding their relatives that had been sold through out the south. And still others attempted to make a life for themselves.

The newly freed slaves encountered all types of roadblocks as they left the plantations. However, they didn’t forget the day that the news of their freedom was delivered to them.

They gathered in celebration, praying and hoping for a new life. Unlike many other events that are celebrated, Juneteenth never lost its meaning. And the celebration has been carried on from one generation to the next.

In some communities, it is celebrated with a day, others celebrate for a week, and still others have a month-long celebration.

The early celebration always focused on education, self-improvement, and prayer. They also included a wide assortment of activities ranging from fishing to barbecues, sporting events, and story telling.

The people of Texas felt that the date was such an important one that \textit{Al Edwards}, a state legislator, led the charge and on January 1, 1980, Juneteenth became an official state holiday.
The Sol-Man Speaks

Martin Chambers: An Unlikely Hero!

Some say he was a thief. Some say he was born free. But the truth about Crispus Attucks is yet to be told. In 1770, in the cobblestone streets of Boston, Crispus Attucks was a drunk, in the wrong place at the right time, as history would pick him to be the first American patriot to lay down his life for the cause of the American Revolution. Two hundred years later, history would do the same thing for Martin Chambers.

Who was Martin Chambers? Some said he was a petty-thief—a high school dropout who hung out with the wrong bunch and was hell-bent on never amounting to anything; some said he didn’t amount to anything. But regardless of what people said, what did Martin Chambers and Crispus Attucks have in common? As Boston-born Crispus Attucks? Attacks was from Boston, Chambers was born in Tampa. One thing they had in common is that both were born on the bottom of society. Neither one of them was lauded for being born in America. So, what did they have in common? As we will see, they both were nobodies, with names that would never have turned their heads one way or another.

Therefore, one could add the names of Crispus Attucks and Martin Chamber in with others like Emmett Till and Martin Luther King, Jr. For authors and historians of America's history, this took a liking to either one of them, neither one of them was named by anyone except their mothers and perhaps their fathers.

So, what else did Tampa-born Martin Chambers and Boston-born Crispus Attucks have in common? As you remember, Chambers became known as the first citizen of what was then the city of Tampa. One thing history can’t take credit for is founding a revolution that ultimately gave birth to the United States of America. What did young Martin Chambers give birth to? “Neither chic nor child!” And yet, others would argue this young man’s death fathered a revolution whose flames still lick the conscience of the City of Tampa.

Yes, Martin Chambers also died. Some said he died heroically. Others said he couldn't forgive himself one day when he was shot in the back by a policeman’s bullet, after he (Chambers) and several of his friends had been caught in a burglary, and were being chased by authorities.

For many years, people pointed to the wire fence Chambers tried to scale when an officer’s bullet brought him down. Indeed, the fence became a shrine, until it too was brought down as one of the final victims of the City of Tampa’s ceaseless Urban Renewal mentality. The fence stood, said many, directly behind what used to be the present-day Racetrack and what had to do with anything? How did the death of an itinerant street urchin elevate the dignity of the poor? Because— as said by a prominent Tampa attorney— Chambers was murdered and murdered by being unremarked, and shot in the back by police! If so, that was not unusual.

However, said history, Martin Chamber’s death sparked one of the most disruptive, most controversial riots ever to take place in the City of Tampa! Said history, Martin Chamber’s death meant that the deaths of Cripsus Attucks, Martin Luther King, Jr. and Emmett Till were to join with the others in the history books. But in the interim for many, Martin Chambers became a hero! He is a hero now, as many still argue what place he should have in local if not national history books. He is a hero in the words that pour from lips and memories of those who knew him, his mother and the times that spawned them both. Indeed, it makes us wonder about his hero-business. It makes us wonder if the truth isn’t sitting out there somewhere, laughing at all of us.

And That’s The Way It Is Not Without Our Father!

Just what is glory? Glory is “something that makes one special.” Black American men suffer from poor image. To say the least, we have quite a struggle ahead of us to overcome and shadow that which has been portrayed against them for so long. Yes, “we!”

How does any man compete when his environment and surroundings prevent him from “thinking outside of the box”? Where does he get the courage to dream for his family, wife and children when he’s stuck in a pit of debt, confusion and harshness?

It has long been stated that “God helps those who help themselves.” Somewhere we forgot; somehow we lost the place where we gave up hope. The Black man is worthy of a good woman and children, a nice house and car, and money, too—just not in his pocket, but in the bank. We don’t need Hollywood or television. We can do this. But, not without our Holy Father. For He is the One who has brought us from where we were to where we are, and it is only through Him that we can return. Peace Be Unto You.

After Rocky Start, Twins Confident About Future After High School

On June 2, twins Arielle and Alliece Spencer of Valrico, 17, donned caps and gowns and proudly accepted their diplomas from PACE Private School in Tampa - an achievement that seemed impossible due to their previously wavering academics.

Over five years ago, Gaetana Spencer, divorced mother of three, began to search for educational alternatives because her two daughters struggled to pass their classes and failed fifth grade in their public elementary school.

"My girls tried hard, but due to a lack of individualized attention in their trouble areas of math and reading, Arielle and Alliece continued to struggle," Gaetana said. "Arielle's battle with math lowered her self-confidence and caused her to become introverted. I didn't imagine getting through fifth grade let alone high school."

After visiting PACE Private School in Tampa, Gaetana learned about Step Up For Students Scholarships, which are available to help low-income parents send their children to private school, or gain out-of-district public school.

Gaetana eagerly applied and upon receiving the scholarship, Arielle and Alliece began at PACE Private School.

"I can still remember my first day," Arielle recalled. "I was initially very shy, but by the end of the day I felt like I had been there forever. Everyone was very nice and friendly."

Gaetana noticed vast changes in her daughters’ grades, self-esteem and motivation the first year they attended PACE. As a result of the encouragement they received from their teachers, Arielle and Alliece began to believe in their own abilities, and both girls were on the honor roll by the end of that first year.

"The teachers were able to spend time and provide step-by-step math instructions, so I was able to better understand it," Arielle said. "I grew more confident in my abilities as a student and it showed through my honor-roll grades."

The Spencer girls excelled at PACE Private School for five years on the Step Up For Students Scholarship and will now pursue a higher education and explore career opportunities in the real world - a part of their life that they are now better equipped for thanks to the education and guidance they received at PACE.

"I really enjoy science, so I am hoping to pursue a career in forensic science at University of South Florida," Alliece said. "This career path would be very interesting to me and science is one of my strong areas."

Arielle and Alliece look forward to continuing their education at a local university, which will be determined by scholarships that they are awarded.

"I want to continue my education in childcare at Hillsborough Community College, but I am exploring all of my options right now," Arielle said. "I plan to get my license for child development and become a teacher."

Over 5,000 new scholarships are currently available for the Fall 2007 school year. Don't delay and join nearly 17,000 students on the scholarships that can be used at over 900 private K-12 schools in Florida. For more information, please visit www.stepupforschools.com or call (866) 739-1197.

Local Elementary Student Excelling In All He Does

JACOB STEVENSON
BY ANTOINE DAVIS
Sentinel Staff Writer

A local elementary school student finished the 2006-07 school year strong, and is showing extraordinary potential in everything he sets his young mind to.

Jacob Stevenson recently completed the third grade at MacFarlane Park School for International Baccalaureate Studies. The 9-year-old received a perfect score on the math section of the Florida Comprehensive Assessment Test (FCAT), and also scored in the 98th percentile for the entire nation on the exam's reading section.

Dr. M. Denyse Riveiro, the principal of MacFarlane Park School presented Stevenson with a certificate for his FCAT achievement.

"We've always tried our best to instill family values and a commitment to education," said Ben Stevenson, Jacob's father. "We are extremely proud of him. He's already decided that he wants to be a doctor or zoologist when he grows up so that he can help people and animals."

This young local prodigy has studied Spanish, Latin and science. He also enjoys writing poetry, playing chess and playing the violin.

Jacob has also shown that he's quite the athlete. The young Tampa native plays in the Riverview soccer league, and was voted Most Valuable Player (MVP) after averaging three goals per game.

"He's a blessing. He's gotten a lot of recognition in and outside of the classroom, and we're just looking forward to any and everything that his life holds for him," said Ben Stevenson.

Jacob is the son of Ben and Sonya Stevenson, and he attends Central Tampa Baptist Church.

Motorcycle Accident Leaves LaVar Arrington With 'Serious Injuries'

LANHAM, Md. (AP) -- Former Redskins and Giants linebacker LaVar Arrington was hospitalized with serious but not life-threatening injuries after his motorcycle crashed on a highway ramp Monday, police said.

Arrington lost control and hit a guardrail, Maryland State Police Sgt. Russell Newell said. He said police did not know how fast Arrington was traveling.

Arrington, who turns 29 Wednesday, was wearing a helmet and alcohol was not involved in the accident, Newell said. Arrington was issued two citations -- one for operating the motorcycle without a proper license and the other for the crash itself.

Washington drafted Arrington No. 2 overall in 2000, and he made three Pro Bowl appearances. Arrington bought out his contract after the 2005 season.

Arrington then joined the Giants but tore his Achilles' tendon in October and played only six games last season.

Lavar Arrington, who played for the Giants last season, was hospitalized after his motorcycle crashed on a highway ramp.

New York released him in February as part of a salary cap purge under new general manager Jerry Reese, leaving Arrington to rehabilitate his injury while looking for another team.

While with the Redskins, Arrington became the team's most popular player and signed an eight-year, $68 million contract extension near the end of the 2005 season.

But Hall of Fame coach Joe Gibbs returned to the team with a new coaching staff in 2004, and Arrington's relationship with Washington began to sour. He hurt his knee early in the 2004 season and played in only four games.

In April 2005, after a second knee operation, Arrington criticized team officials for failing to support him during his injury. He also became involved in a dispute with Redskins owner Dan Snyder over a $6.5 million bonus Arrington said was missed from the final version of his contract.

The contract dispute was eventually settled, but Arrington then had a hard time getting on the field. He was used sparingly in the first six games of 2005 and didn't play at all in a loss against Denver. There was a sense that Arrington didn't fit well with defensive coordinator Gregg Williams' disciplined schemes.

Police Want To Question Pacman

ATLANTA — Suspended NFL player Adam "Pacman" Jones was being sought by police for questioning about a shooting early Monday involving members of his entourage after a fight at an Atlanta strip club.

The Tennessee Titans cornerback is currently on suspension following a melee and shooting at a Las Vegas strip club.

Jones, his group and three other people got into a fight, apparently over a woman, at a club around 4 a.m., officer Ariel Toledo said.

After everyone involved left the strip club — the three people in one car, and Jones and his entourage in three other cars — someone in Jones' group shot at the car, and the others returned fire, Toledo said.

Toledo said Jones was not present when the shots were fired.

"We believe he knows some of his entourage who were involved in the shooting," Toledo said. "On himself, we do not have any charges on him. He wasn't there when the shots were fired."

One person who was outside the vehicles and not involved in the dispute was injured by debris in the shooting and was treated by emergency medical technicians, Toledo said.

Manny Arora, Jones' attorney, said he expects the police whatever help he can.

"I've got to sit down with him and sit down with the police and figure out what we're looking at or if in fact he can help them," Arora said. "Once we agree to do that, I will do it very privately and we'll take care of it."

He said that may be in person, by phone or even by e-mail.

"Adam was not involved, they'll tell you, in the shooting," Arora said. "His car wasn't there or anywhere near the scene. They simply are just asking him . . . much like any other witness, if anything happened inside that might help them figure out who was involved."

Barnett Arrested After Night Club Fight

APPLETON, Wis. — Green Bay Packers linebacker Nick Barnett was arrested early Sunday morning after a disturbance at a downtown establishment, police said.

Barnett, 26, was taken into custody for battery after allegedly being involved in a physical altercation about 2 a.m. at the Wet nightclub, according to a police statement. He was taken to Outagamie County Jail in Appleton and released within an hour after posting a $500 cash bond.

Barnett appeared for a charity softball event later Sunday at the club for a preliminary game involving Packers players and sponsors. But he left the field early during the regular game and didn't return.

Saints Cut Lewis, Whitehead

NEW ORLEANS — Two undrafted players who went on to success with the New Orleans Saints, wide receiver and kick returner Michael Lewis and defensive end Willie Whitehead, were cut by the team Friday.

Lewis was known as “Beer Man” because he drove a beer truck before getting a tryout with his hometown team and making the roster at age 29, soon becoming the team’s star return man.

Dungy Charity Event For Pioneering Dad Raises $122K

TONY DUNGY

INDIANAPOLIS — Indianapolis Colts coach Tony Dungy joined his siblings in his hometown Friday for a fundraising dinner honoring their father.

Dungy was joined by head coaches Rod Marinelli of the Detroit Lions and Lovie Smith of the Chicago Bears, who lost to Indianapolis 29-17 in the Super Bowl in February. Dungy hired Marinelli and Smith on his first NFL staff, at Tampa Bay in 1996.

The event raised $122,000 for the Wilbur L. Dungy Endowed Chair in Science at Jackson Community College, the Jackson Citizen-Patriot reported on its website.

Organizers of the $1 million drive to honor Dungy’s father, the first black man to teach at the community college, have now raised $792,000.

Bonds Hits No. 748, But Red Sox Cap Sweep of Giants

BOSTON — Barry Bonds added baseball’s oldest ballpark to his longball list and was back on his way to the sport’s most hallowed record.

The San Francisco slugger hit his 748th career homer in Boston’s 9-5 victory over the Giants on Sunday, adding Fenway Park, the Red Sox and knuckleballer Tim Wakefield to his scrapbook and moving within seven of Hank Aaron’s mark.

“I thought it was a popup, and I turned around and saw J.D. (Drew) just keep going back, further and further and further,” said Wakefield, the 441st pitcher to feed Bonds’ home run habit. “He put a good swing on it, and I’m sure he’s put a lot of swings on a lot of other pitchers.”

The last time Bonds homered off a knuckler was when he hit No. 73 of 2001 off Los Angeles Dodger Dennis Springer to establish the single-season record. Bonds had hitless in eight at-bats against Wakefield, even joking that the pitches were too slow to hit hard.

“I think my age got me slower so I’m more able to time it a bit better,” Bonds said with a smile after going 2-for-3 on Sunday. “I tip my cap to him, he came after me in every at-bat. He gave me something to hit.”

Unhappy Bryant Implies He’ll Seek Trade From Lakers

LOS ANGELES — Kobe Bryant implied again that he wants to be traded, writing on his Website that “the Lakers and me just have two different visions for the future.”

The statement posted Sunday on kb24.com was the latest in a recent series of sometimes inconsistent comments from Bryant about whether he wants to remain in Los Angeles.

“When you love something as much as I love the Lakers, it’s hard to even imagine thinking about being else-
Oprah Tops Forbes’ List Of Power Players

NEW YORK — Oprah Winfrey continues to take over the world. The media mogul is back on top of Forbes’ annual “Celebrity 100 Power List,” which ranks the rich and famous based on earnings and buzz.

Winfrey, who came in third last year, was the top money-maker with an estimated income of $260 million over the past 12 months. She last topped the list in 2007.

“The woman is making history every single year,” said Les Goldman, a Forbes associate editor who oversees the list. “It’s not as if she’s sitting on her laurels enjoying the show.”

Winfrey’s Harpo Productions is a partner on celebrity chef Rachael Ray’s popular syndicated daytime talk show. Winfrey continues to own 50% of Harpo, which is launching its first prime-time series, “The Oprah Winfrey Show.”

Golf tycoon Tiger Woods, who pulled in $100 million, ranks second. Madonna, absent from the list last year, is No. 3. The pop star’s production company, Harpo Productions, is a partner on celebrity chef Rachael Ray’s popular daytime talk show.

Rapper 50 Cent will not have to testify at the upcoming trial of Denver Nuggets guard Allen Iverson. Washington D.C. this month after a federal judge ruled Friday that he was too far from the courthouse.

Two patrons of a bar in downtown D.C. are accusing Iverson of assault, conspiracy and other charges stemming from a fight between customers and members of his security detail. While 50 Cent didn’t involved in the fight, lawyers for the patrons said the rapper knew some of Iverson’s security staff and could testify at trial about their behavior.

50 Cent, whose real name is Curtis Jackson, argued that since he was not involved in the fight and is not named in the lawsuit, he could not be forced to travel from his home in Hartford, Connecticut to testify at trial, which begins June 27. A federal judge agreed, saying she did not have jurisdiction in the case.

FABOLOUS

Judge Dismisses Charges Against Fabolous

NEW YORK — A judge has dismissed illegal weapons charges against Fabolous that put the Brooklyn rapper behind bars for a night last October.

Fabolous was arrested Oct. 17 after he was treated for a minor gunshot wound following a wild night at Justin’s, a Manhattan restaurant and club owned by Sean “Diddy” Combs.

A prosecutor said Thursday that authorities were unable to prove that Fabolous, 27, or three co-defendants were the owners of two loaded handguns found in a car in which they had ridden.

“He’s more relieved than happy,” the rapper’s lawyer, Alberto Ebanks, said Thursday. “He would never have been here in the first place.”

Trouble at the celebrity-studded nightspot began when a woman and 50 Cent, an out-of-town guest, were unable to prove that Fabolous was the owner of a $50,000 chain off the neck of the woman and her friends.

Gunfire later broke out in a parking lot near the restaurant. Fabolous was hit in the right thigh, then escaped the scene with three other men in a Dodge Magnum sport utility vehicle.

While he was being treated at a hospital, police searched the vehicle and found two handguns, a.40 caliber and a.380 caliber semiautomatic. Neither gun was registered, and police said the serial number on the .380 had been scratched off.

“There were four guys in the car,” Ebanks said. “My client jumped in the back seat of the car after he was shot. It was not the car he came to the club in.”

Ebanks suggested in October that Telfair and Fabolous were victims of robbers who were targeting the club’s high-profile clientele.

“These were people preying on celebrities,” Ebanks said at the time, “and my client was obviously targeted because he is a high-profile celebrity and platinum-selling artist.”

Detectives had Telfair view police lineups with suspects in the chain theft, but he failed to identify anyone.

Fabolous, who was born John Jackson, was in the courthouse Thursday, but stayed outside the courtroom after his lawyer told him the case was being dismissed.

His latest hit, “Make Me Better,” is one of the top rap singles in the country.

Michael Claims Brother Randy Tried To Steal His Money

Michael Jackson is accusing his brother Randy and a family friend of trying to steal money from him during his 2005 trial on child molestation charges.

Details of Jackson’s claims were exposed in a sworn deposition he gave for a federal lawsuit scheduled to go to trial this week, reports the New York Daily News.

The firm Prescient Acquisition, owned by David Dash, is suing Jackson for failing to pay back $48 million he borrowed to refinance a $272 million bank loan and secure $573 million in financing to buy out Sony’s half of the Beatles’ song catalogue that Jackson owns.

But Jackson claims he’s never heard of Dash, a cousin of hip-hop mogul Damon Dash, and has no recollection of signing any agreement.

During the seven hours of transcripts obtained by the

Michael and Randy Jackson

Daily News, the King of Pop blames several people for his financial shortcomings, including his younger brother Randy, who has served as his informal counsel on various money matters, reports the newspaper.

Michael testified that he was pressured to sign off on a multimillion-dollar financing deal during breaks in his child molestation trial.

The man pushing the deal was Don Stabler, an associate brought in by Randy whom Michael said left a great first impression.

“He reminded me of people...

The Color Purple.

...that live in mid-America like Indians,” Jackson testified.

But Jackson soon became uncomfortable with Stabler and eventually sought financial advice from billionaire Ron Burkle, a friend of former President Bill Clinton.

Burkle, in turn, brought in Jesse Jackson to help with the consultation.

Rev. Abe Brown recently received the Father of the Year Award by the 100 Black Men of Tampa Bay. The local non-profit organization held their annual Juneteenth Celebration on Sunday, June 17th. They honored four well-known fathers in the Tampa Bay area including Rev. Brown, Les Miller, Herman Floyd and Sam Jones at their annual event.

Rev. Brown was named the winner before a near capacity crowd at the Westin Harbour Island Hotel. The 80-year-old is the pastor of First Baptist Church of Oldsmar and the founder of Abe Brown Ministries, a non-profit dedicated to helping ex-offenders lead productive lives.

“I think that everyone in attendance believed that Rev. Brown was a great choice for Father of the Year. He’s done so much to help so many people. Director Of Community Affairs To Retire After 32 Years

BY GWENDOLYN HAYES
Sentinel Editor

Charles Frederick Hearns has decided to bring his career with the City of Tampa to a close after 32-1/2 years. Fred (or Frederick) Hearns, as he is best known throughout the community, will retire on July 13th, he announced on Monday.

Hearns, 58, started with the City of Tampa in January 1975 as a Community Relations Representative, having been hired by Alton White. At that time, Bobby Bowden was the Football Coach at the University of South Florida and Bobby Bowden was the Director of Community Affairs at the University where he was the Sports Information Director for 17 years under George Daniels. When Bobby Bowden was hired by Alton White. At that time, Bobby Bowden was the Football Coach at the University of South Florida and Bobby Bowden was the Sports Information Director for 17 years under George Daniels.

Hearns started his work career at the Florida Sentinel in 1966. He was a sports writer, covering the University of South Florida’s sports. He worked during the summers while a student at the University of South Florida.

C. FREDERICK HEARNS
Florida. His career as a journalist took him to the St. Petersburg Times, and the Ft. Lauderdale Sun Sentinel, back to the Sentinel for about a year on a full-time basis. He then ventured to Southern University where he was the Sports Information Director for 4 years before returning to Tampa and the position with the City.

The time to retire is coming at a good time for Hearns. It’s a time that he can finalize the plans on the business he will be starting in the fall - Tampa Bay History Tours, LLC, a family business of which he will be President. Hearns has been doing bus tours of what started in Central Ave. Tours since 2005. “It was in April of that year during ‘Fair Housing Month’ that we held the first tours for the Robert W. Saunders Library. Since then, my passion for history tours has grown and the once a month tours that once covered the Central Avenue district have extended into Ybor City.”

When the Tampa Bay History Tours, LLC, starts in the fall, Channelside will also be a part of the bus tours. The tours will be Fridays, starting July 15th. About two weeks ago, Hearns took a tour in Memphis, which confirmed his desire to start the business. “There is so much history in Memphis, but Tampa has a lot as well - varied history.”

Hearns is a member of the International Association of Official Human Rights Agencies (IAOHR), National Association of Human Rights Workers (NAHRW), and past president of the Florida Association of Community Relations Professionals (FACRP). He is also a member of Allen Temple AME Church, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity and President of the Robert W. Saunders Library, Inc.

“It’s just unbelievable the number of friendships I’ve made over these years,” he said. “It makes you feel good to know that you’ve been able to make a difference in a lot of people’s lives. As I move into the next phase of my life I’m so excited about the tours and more lives that will be touched.”

Muslim Association Sponsors Comedy Extravaganza

BY LEON B. CREWS.
Sentinel Staff Writer

The Tampa Bay Area Muslim Association will present their 2007 Fundraiser and Comedy Extravaganza on Saturday, August 25th at 8 p.m. at the Wyndham Hotel, Kennedy Boulevard and Westshore Boulevard.

Guest speakers at the event will be Imam Furqan A. Muhammad of Atlanta, Georgia.

TAMA is trying to build a community-monitoring complex in support of families in the community, and asks that the public come out in support of this event.

TAMA is a faith-based organization which is deeply concerned about the community and family life.

"The entire community can benefit from a community-monitoring complex and can experience peace of mind knowing there is a safe environment, which expouses supportive social assistance without taxing their dignity with superimposed judgments," said Imam Furqan A. El-Amin.

"Family members can rely on this needed outlet, outside the home during stressful times; family members can rest assured they can vent and discuss confidential matters with professionals who are trained and prepared to assist in personal crises, and youths in families will have a venue with structure to just hang out rather than the street corners."

The complex aims to support families with mentorships and various social services, including ongoing activities, study quarrles, computer and technology assistance, male and female mentors of diverse age groups, library and reference section, conference rooms, multipurpose rooms with kitchen area for community events, a gym, an auditorium to include artistic events, teen intervention awareness groups, family and parenting classes, interfaith youth groups, crafts and elderly care for senior citizens, confidential counseling, psychological assessments, referral to outside social agencies, administrative support and staff, security and maintenance crews.

As a part of the fundraiser, you will enjoy saxophonist Bernard "BK" Jackson and comedians Sensational LLC and CAIR’s own Ramzy Killie.

TAMA will also be giving out the Marcus Garvey Economic Achievement Award and the Najjary Shaheed Community Service Awards. The community will be involved with sending in their essay nominations for the Marcus Garvey Award.

For more information about this fundraising event, contact Brother Jarvis K. El-Amin at (813) 877-6602.

Young Father Murdered At Motel

Police released these surveillance photos of the women who rented the room at the motel where the shooting took place.

Dwayne Marlon Simms was 15 when his mother, Andrea Patterson, left their native Kingston, Jamaica and came to this country.

They settled in East Tampa and Simms enrolled into Riverview High School. After graduation, he decided to join the Jcib Corps, but found the environment too hostile and came to this country.

Probe. The two men are described in a new model maroon Ford sedan.

Police said the two men fled the scene.

Woman Charged With DUI After Accident

Tampa Police released the photo of Dwayne Simms as a 15-year-old student at Riverview High School.

Tampa Police said later, two men approached the room where Simms, his friend and the women were, and shot him several times.

He died at the scene.

After the shooting, the two women and the two men who arrived later fled. His friend, a witness, was not involved in the shooting.

Ms. Patterson said she was never really that nervous about her son going out.

"He was young and I understand. If he stayed out all night and didn't come home, he usually called me the next day. When I didn't get a call the next day, I still wasn't upset. I knew he spent a lot of time around the girls."

Ms. Patterson said her sister called her to tell her Shem went missing.

Ms. Patterson said Dwayne was the eldest of her two children.

He was a jovial person, and brought joy and laughter to everyone he met. We had a good relationship and a strong bond.

"Dwayne loved Reggae music and embraced his West Indian culture. He was always concerned about his appearance."

No arrests have been made in the shooting, and police have described the women as one appearing to be 5'10" tall, weighing 175 pounds, and in her 20s. The other woman is described as 5'4" tall, weighing between 165 and 170 pounds, and appearing to be 20 to 29 years old.

The investigation disclosed the stolen handgun, 13 boxes of ammunition and $17,000.

Addison is expected to plead guilty to being a convicted felon in possession of a firearm, possession of marijuana with intent to distribute and possessing a firearm during a crime. He faces a mandatory minimum of 5 years in prison up to life, as well as a term of supervised release up to 5 years.

If the court accepts the agreement, prosecutors have agreed not to charge him with any other federal criminal offenses.

Man Gets Life In Subway Shooting

On Friday, Judge William Fuente sentenced Phillip Austin, Jr., 20, to life in prison for the 2004 shooting of 2 Subway Sandwich Shop employees.

Daniel Miller, 22, was killed and Dorothy Hayes wounded when Austin, and Marquis Alexander entered the restaurant. Darrell Doby sat outside in a car waiting for Alexander and Austin.

During Austin's trial, investigators viewed a surveillance video to determine
