Teen Fatally Shot Trying To Help Stranger

On November 14th, Demario Edwards would have celebrated his 20th birthday. His mother, Tangela Edwards, said her son had made big plans for his future, and in January was going to take classes to become a paramedic.

However, events Friday night change all of that.

Tampa Police report that at 11:10 p.m., Waitus Howard, 35, was standing outside the Via Del Rio Apartments on Sligh Avenue.

Police said Howard was confronted by two males who stabbed him several times.

Edwards reportedly heard Howard screaming, and ran to see what was going on. That’s when one of the suspects shot him. Although officers performed CPR, he was pronounced dead at the hospital.

Howard was described only as a pair of black males, one tall and the other short.

Ms. Edwards said her son graduated from Hillsborough High School and was employed at B&D Grocers on 40th Street and Hillsborough Avenue.

“If you had plans of starting EMS training in January, it was something he was really excited about.”

Ms. Edwards said Demario enjoyed playing baseball, listening to music, and spending time with his four siblings and friends.

“He was a respectable young man who got along with everyone. He was really a great kid.”

“You didn’t have to be his friend or even know him for him to look out for you. He actually walked a little boy from the neighborhood to school to keep the bullies from bothering him.”

Ms. Edwards said when her son was younger, he sat with his late grandfather, Mr. Robert Lee “Big Man” Walker, on Lake Avenue in 20th Street, selling the Florida Sentinel Bulletin.

“He enjoyed being with his grandfather, and both of them had a great sense of humor.”

Ms. Edwards said she hasn’t spoken with any law enforcement personnel, and prefers they talk to her sister at this point.

“I’m not mad at the young man who was stabbed. I hate the fact my son is gone, but it’s not that young man’s fault.”

“I will say that I never thought someone would be coming to me telling me my youngest son was dead.”

Police said Howard was treated and released from a local hospital with stab wounds to his face.

Police spokesperson, Andrea Davis, said Howard is no stranger to Tampa Police.

“He’s also well known by one of our homicide detectives.”

Howard’s arrest record indicates he’s been arrested 17 times since 1998 on charges ranging from fleeing police to drug possession. His latest arrest was April 2009 for possession of cocaine, possession of cocaine with intent to deliver within 1,000 feet of a church, a school, and public housing area. He was released the same day on $17,500 bond.

Arnold Fields, 23, has been charged with second-degree murder in the shooting. Fields was arrested 10 minutes after the shooting on Hanna Avenue on charges of carrying a concealed firearm, and being a felon in possession of a firearm. The additional charge of second-degree murder was added later, and detectives said Fields faces even more charges.

The family has asked Aikens Funeral Home to assist them with arrangements.

Congratulations, Mr. President

Before 6 a.m., on Friday, White House Press Secretary Robert Gibbs awarded President Barack Obama with the news that he has been awarded the 2009 Nobel Peace Prize.

President Obama, who founded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1930, said the event was a wonderful recognition of the President's efforts to repair and restore America's relationship with our global partners. As the world's only remaining superpower, it is incumbent upon us to lead by example and set moral and civil tone for others to follow.

Ms. Jayne Trieste said, "Congratulations to President Obama and to the Norwegian Nobel Committee for seeing the vision of a more peaceful world and reminding us that the time for change is NOW!"

Howard Harris said, "Hurrah for SuperOBAMA! This announcement drove Glenn Beck and the other wing nuts crazy. They scream that he was nominated for the Nobel Prize after only 3 weeks in office."

However, our President Obama wooed and won over the world before he won the presidential election. As president he has continued to do so by declaring an end to torture, dismantling a yet to be developed, expensive and unproven "star wars" missile shield near Russia, opening discussions with Iran, and pulling the world back from a worldwide economic depression.

"In other words, he rescued America from the madness of the Bush Administration and deserves the Nobel Prize." Ms. Towanda Bradley said, "President Barack Obama's success is all a part of God's perfect plan. One day everyone, including the president's opponents will understand."

Dr. George Foxx said, "I am personally happy to see President Barack Obama make this achievement. This is just another milestone for others to strive for as a role model in his capacity."

"Though surprising, his ability and potential has once again been proven. Congratulations to our president!"

Ms. Ann Porter said, "It appears the Nobel Peace Prize Committee agrees with the vast majority of the American people when we elected him as our president. He advocates nuclear control, a cleaner environment, opened the lines of diplomacy, and has strengthened our economy."

Ms. Pat Spencer said, "I am truly pleased that President Obama received the 2009 Nobel Peace Prize. I believe that given the guidelines used and that the vote for him was unanimous, the committee did not jump to a quick selection."

"As President Obama said himself, it is a "call to action," which gives the indication that some believe he is on the right track for all of us in our country, and abroad. Congratulations Mr. President!"

Ronnie Moorer said, "It was a great and joyful surprise when I heard he won. So many countries love and respect President Obama, even our enemies. Because he do not go over and try to dictate what the U.S.A. wants them to do, but what "we" as a whole can do to bring about "World Peace."

President Obama's "Change" idea is about everybody working together to make that change, not one person or one country."

Ms. Shannon Legrand said, "What a mesmerizing and historic moment! This win is an awesome achievement for President Obama, but also a reflection that the citizens of the world are eager to see him implement plans for peace as it relates to foreign affairs. At the same time, I'm sure this award will create a new window of scrutiny from his critics."

Ms. Towa11da Bradley said, "Congratulations to our foreign affairs. At the same time, I'm sure this award will create a new window of scrutiny from his critics."
A Startled Prince Of Peace

I t is good that President Barack Obama is humble. For, humility comes in handy, especially if you happen to be a man whose work can easily be translated as either historical or biblical. So, it comes as no surprise that our 44th President would say, upon his recent tap to receive the Nobel Peace Prize, in so noble a worthy fashion as:

...well love.

But in so saying, President Obama who is himself, a man of historical letters must be wise not to forget that he is history’s child.

And what does History have to say about Black men who receive Nobel Peace Prizes? Does it say they are each surprised and humbled that they were chosen. Ralph Bunche recognized his ascendency to the moment was not his alone. The same was true with another Black Nobel Peace Prize laureate, Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. questioned “why this prize is given to a Negro Preacher.”

Clearly, Bunche recognized his ascendency to the moment was not his alone. The same was true with another Black Nobel Peace Prize laureate, Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. questioned “why this prize is given to a Negro Preacher.”

History thinks otherwise. For, this most recent Prince of Peace, like few others, is described as “one of the most vicious and cruel race riots in American history.”

The Tulsa Race Riot: Before the Riot

T he Tulsa race riot was described by then NAACP executive Walter White, as “one of the most vicious and cruel race riots in American history.”

The May 31, 1921 attack on the Black community of Greenwood (called Little Africa by local whites) in Tulsa, Oklahoma, which gave Blacks the opportunity to share in the wealth of the city, was described as “one of the most vicious and cruel race riots in American history.”

The riot began when a group of white men and boys, who protested “Jim Crow” in Greenwood, ambushed the 3rd Oklahoma National Guard Company. The outraged guardsmen began shooting, killing and wounding at will. The resulting race riot lasted for three days, and resulted in the deaths of more than 100 people, including many children.

National Breast Cancer Month

O ctober is National Breast Cancer Month, we urge both men and women to participate in monthly self-breast examinations and urge women to get a mammogram every year as a matter of early detection. We wish to remind our male readers to encourage the women in their lives to perform the exam monthly and yearly. Every year, a million or more women are diagnosed with breast cancer. Sadly, more Black women are diagnosed with late-stage breast cancer due to apocrine or lack of self-examination and failure to secure annual mammograms.

For, who are without adequate insurance coverage, research organizations and clinics will provide free or reduced-cost mammograms during health fairs and at local clinics. The women in America should have to become a victim of late-stage breast cancer because of a lack of insurance. No woman in America should suffer from the disease because of failure to take care of themselves.

Therefore, we all will encourage our female friends and loved ones to do the right thing. Let’s give thanks by either:

A Startled Prince of Peace

Downtown St. Petersburg had something going on. It had Bay Walk, a multi-center plaza that was a major part of revitalizing downtown St. Petersburg. Bay Walk combined shops, restaurants and entertainment centers to attract large crowds to downtown St. Pete. This was especially true at nights and on weekends. Bay Walk was a winner. It was a big economic boom for the area. Bay Walk was the place to be. Then crowds of rowdy teenagers began to hang in and around the complex.

This became a distraction for patrons of businesses at Bay Walk. Because of the huge crowds gathering at Bay Walk, the business complex became a soap box for protesters of all sorts. While both of these groups were exercising their first amendment rights, they began to drive customers away from Bay Walk.

When customers began to desert Bay Walk, businesses began to close and the economic boost of Bay Walk began to fade. The owners of Bay Walk and St. Petersburg’s Mayor began to search for ways to improve conditions at the downtown complex and to pump new economic life into the area.

Thus the idea was born to turn the south side walks over to the owners of the complex and to ask them to control activities on the no longer public side walk. The idea had to be approved by the St. Petersburg City Council. Surely the council would approve the plan if it would bring Bay Walk back to life. But hold on there. City Council did not approve the idea. By a vote of 4-for and 4-against, the idea to close the walk way was not approved and the walk way remained the property of the city and a right of way.

Some council members saw the plan as a gross violation of the first amendment and the freedom of speech and freedom of peaceful demonstration.

Hooyah! The First Amendment was won. But just how good will the First Amendment be at Bay Walk?

If nothing is done to revitalize the complex and Bay Walk should completely shut down, who will be there to hear the voices of the peaceful demonstrators? Not the customers because they will be shopping somewhere else. Not the employees because they will have lost their jobs and will be somewhere else looking for another job.

Certainly not the owners of Bay Walk because they will have closed the complex and moved on.

I ask you, in the end, did the First Amendment really win? Sometimes a win can be a loss.

Mom Still Waits On News Of Missing Son

BY IRIS B. HOLTON
Sentinel City Editor

The last time Ms. Robin Harris saw her son, Ryan Darkins Davis, 20, he was in the company of Carl G. Walters. Davis' family has not heard from him since he left home with Walters to spend the night.

He told his mother he had an appointment the following day and that Walters was going to take him to it. That was on April 3rd.

Two days later, shortly before 5 p.m., a passerby discovered the body of an unidentified Black man in a wooded area near Stanley Road and Cooper Road. The man had no identification. He was later identified as Walters.

Six months have passed and Ms. Harris said she knows something happened to her son. He is listed as a missing and endangered person in the national crime computer. Davis is described as being 5'5" and weighing about 120 pounds. When last seen, he had a low haircut and a tattoo of musical notes behind his ear. He also had a mole on his nose and another mole near his left eye, a light goatee and is known for smiling a lot.

Ms. Harris said, "My son would have contacted us. He would never stay away and not call home. I know that someone knows what happened to him and I want them to come forward. Someone knows something and they are just not talking. I don't want my son to just be forgotten."

Davis would have celebrated his 21st birthday on July 21st.

Tampa Police searched a landfill in hopes of finding leads to the whereabouts of Davis. They were unsuccessful.

As the investigation continued, police spoke with Derrick Eugene Cullins. During the investigation, police reportedly observed unexplained cuts on Cullins' fingers, a bite mark on his buttocks, and a bite mark on his chest. He also had blood on his clothing and shoes, police said.

Cullins never confessed to killing his brother, but was arraigned and charged with murder.

Anyone with any information is asked to call (813) 231-6130.

Police believe that 21-year-old Walters was murdered at his home, 1810 E. Humphrey, he shared with his older brother, Derrick Collins. The cause of death was the result of injuries sustained during a violent attack with a knife.

Already concerned about her son, Ms. Harris reported him missing after Walters' body was identified. She filed the police report on April 4th.

When Ms. Sophine Burton saw an upsetting movie trailer and e-mailed a comment about it, to the Oprah Winfrey Show, she didn't realize that it would land her on the show.

But, one of the producers read her comment and invited her to appear on the show live. The movie entitled "Good Hair," starring comedian Chris Rock, who also appeared on the show. The movie is about Black women and the various types weave that adorn their hair.

"I thought it was degrading us because he didn't talk about other cultures. There was nothing positive about us. I work in corporate America and it's nobody's business if it's my hair or weave," she said.

Ms. Burton further stated that the comedian said it wasn't his intent to do that. "He said it wasn't the movie's intent to belittle or embarrass us, but it did come off that way."

She said that there were several women there, but everyone didn't get a chance to talk. "I was the first one and got a chance to speak."

At the time she contacted the show, she didn't know that Oprah Winfrey had just completed an interview with Chris Rock. The show contacted him to appear live to discuss the movie.

The movie is about Black women and their hairstyles. In one scene of the movie Rock is in India talking to women who cut their hair for religious reasons. He asks the women if they had had hair or weave. Oprah Winfrey had just completed an interview with Chris Rock. The show contacted him to appear live to discuss the movie.

Ms. Burton, who is a mentor and co-founder of a girl's mentoring program feels the movie stereotypes Black women and will cause them more problems in school or the workplace. She feels that Hollywood and specifically, Chris Rock had a responsibility to present more positive images.

Ms. Burton said things happened very quickly. She was contacted by the show on Thursday evening and left for Chicago. The show aired on Friday and everything was over by 10 a.m.

Her return flight wasn't until 6 p.m., leaving her the remaining of the day to take in the sights of the city.

Firemen To Receive Medal of Valor For Saving Victim

BY IRIS B. HOLTON
Sentinel City Editor

Last year, a house fire in East Tampa ended with the death of two of its occupants and injuries to a third. The firefighters who responded to the scene were honored Friday during the Annual City of Tampa Fire Department's Awards Banquet. The event took place at Higgins Hall.

Captain Robert Duabar, Driver-Engineer Vince Jackson, and firefighters Rufus Wiggins and Robert Angel, members of Engine 10 B, were presented the Esprit De Corps Award.

Captain Brian Mintzer and firefighters Rufus Wiggins, Justin Spruill, and Steven Dean were given special recognition with the presentation of the Medal of Valor, Gold, as well.

Fireman Rufus Wiggins said, "I feel good about the honor. I was able to help out on that scene. I was glad that I could help."

Wiggins further stated that the bungalow was on all of the windows and doors hindered the rescue. But, it took only a few seconds and a special tool to break the lock and gain entry to the home. In addition to the locked doors, the firemen had to contend with falling electrical wires on a fence nearby.

When firemen arrived at the fire at 2905 E. Chipco Avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Willie (Mary Jones) Bynes, Jr., and their granddaughter, Ms. LaToya Williams, were trapped inside the home.

The firemen found Mr. Bynes off to the left and Mrs. Bynes in an area between the dining room and living room. They were taken outside where CPR was administered. Mr. and Mrs. Willie (Mary Jones) Bynes, Jr., and their granddaughter, Ms. LaToya Williams, were still inside when the firemen went back inside and rescued Ms. Williams.

Ms. Williams and Mr. Bynes did not survive their injuries. Mrs. Bynes was hospitalized, but recovered.

Wiggins is the son of the late Mrs. Viola Hightower and Rufus Wiggins, Jr. He is the father of a child and enjoys being a parent. He's a member of Mount Tabor Missionary Baptist Church.

Fireman Wiggins became a fireman later in life than he had planned. The 39-year-old Tampa native said that was his dream as a child. But, after reaching adulthood, his life took him in other directions.

But, the Hillsborough High School graduate decided to pursue his dream and enrolled at Hillsborough Community College. After taking the required courses, he was hired by the City of Tampa.

He had been on the job less than 4 years when he went to the fire on E. Chipco. He describes it as the worst residential fire he had responded to in his career. However, although he is saddened by the loss of life, Wiggins views his job as the "best job I've ever had," because he is following his calling.

Fences’ Focuses On Life For Blacks In The 1950s

BY IRIS B. HOLTON
Sentinel City Editor

This weekend, the curtain will fall on the final act of the hit play "Fences." The play has been extended for the third time.

The play is being presented by the American Stage, 163 3rd Street, North, in St. Petersburg. But, one of its actors, Ms. Jayne Trinette, wanted play lovers in Tampa to know about it before its final curtain call.

Ms. Trinette Stars as Rose, wife of Troy Maxson. The couple has been married for 18 years. The plot focuses on Troy not being allowed to drive a garbage truck, although he is a garbage man. It also targets the relationship between Troy and his wife, as well as his infidelity, after she learns he has fathered a child.

Totally devoted to Troy, Rose accepts the responsibility of raising his daughter after her mother dies.

Two of the actors, Ms. Jayne Trinette, who plays the character of Rose, and Ron Bobb-Semple, Gabriel, who plays Gabriel in the play, live in Tampa.

Ms. Trinette said she auditioned for the play that has been running for the past 8 weeks. Being a professional actress, Ms. Trinette said she has to work with a professional theatre company.

Ms. Trinette said, "The American Stage Theater is the best kept secret in town. Most people who love theater don’t believe they can find wonderful shows at small theaters. It often gets overlooked because it is small and intimate."

"Fences" is one of a series of plays about African American life in American spanning each decade, beginning in the 1900s. The play, written by August Wilson, won a Pulitzer Prize for drama in 1987, and the Tony Award for Best Play.

The play is known as part of the "Pittsburgh Cycle" because 9 of the 10 plays were set in a mythical neighborhood in Pittsburgh, where Wilson grew up.

Tampa Man Decides To Try Professional Wrestling As A Career

BY LEON B. CREWS
Sentinel Staff Writer

Professional wrestling and Tampa were always made for each other. Before the WWE turned professional wrestling into a show instead of a sporting event, the Sportatorium on Kennedy and Albany and Tuesday nights at J. Homer Armony Armory became more popular than the State Fair or even the Super Bowl.

It was in that environment as a toddler, Norman Lee Ammons, Jr.'s grandmother would take him to the matches.

"I know I was a little guy, but I remember the Armory. That place was something else.

"I really started getting into pro wrestling when it was on television. That's when I started paying attention."

Wright, who wrestles under the name of Jordan O'Neill, said he's not a natural athlete, and his desire to become a wrestler came after he graduated from high school.

"It was just a hobby at that time, but as the years went by, I started attending more matches and paying closer attention to what was happening after the matches.

"Two years ago, I received a sign to actually give it a try. There was nothing going on locally, but I had so many people around me into it as fans.

"Wright said he started noticing professional wrestling had gone in a different direction, and you had to go about it with passion and like it meant your future."

Wright started training in March 2009, and quickly discovered when it comes to professional wrestling, you get what you make of it, and you're not going to like everyone.

"But, you shake their hand anyway.

"So far, my biggest surprise has been the work schedule. You really have to train hard if you want to be successful. A lot of people thought I had to take steroids to do this, but that's not my way."

"Their deaths really had an impact on me."

So far, I've had only two matches, but I know I'm ready to go. You never stop learning in this sport."

Wright who is 6'4" tall and weighs 256 pounds, said he will do this as long as God allows him to.

"I do think a lot about injuries and the toll this takes on your body. I train every day, including the psychology of the sport. I'm in this to reach the top level."

Wright currently wrestles at Strokers, 11236 West Hillsborough Avenue, on Friday nights.

FAMU Accepts Resignation Of Top Officials In Athletics

Hayes plans to submit his letter of resignation with an effective date of December 31, 2009. Bob McBee, Associate Athletic Director For Marketing, and Alvin Hollins, Director Of Sports Information, received notices of non-renewal and employment separation from the university effective December 26, 2009.

"After much deliberation and thought, I decided to move in a different direction with the FAMU athletic program," said FAMU President James H. Ammons. "We appreciate the services rendered by Hayes, McBee, and Hollins and we wish them all the best in their future endeavors. We will immediately begin a search for a new athletic director."

Vaughn Wilson will assume Hollins' duties. Wilson is a former FAMU football player and is director of photography for the Capital Outlook, a Tallahassee newspaper.

Eagles Prevail 33-14 Over Buccaneers

With all the bad press football fans in Philadelphia get, on Sunday they behaved themselves for the most part.

Afterall, their beloved Eagles had handily defeated the visiting Tampa Bay Buccaneers 33-14.

Plagued by poor offensive line play, dropped balls, three interceptions, and a defense that gave up two big plays, the Bucs made it easy for Donovan McNabb, who completed 16 passes for 264 yards and three touchdowns.

Rookie wide receiver, Jeremy Maclin, was on the receiving end of two of those passes.

As for the Buccaneers, they couldn't overcome or deal with a blitzing eagle defense that harassed Josh Johnson all game. The writing was on the wall when you ask your second-year quarterback to attempt 50 passes. Johnson finished with 240 yards and a pair of touchdowns, both to Kellen Winslow.

McNabb got absolutely no defensive pressure the entire game, and was able to step aside in the fourth quarter for Michael Vick. It's not going to get easier for the 0-6 Bucs as they play the Carolina Panthers next week. The Panthers won their first game of the season defeating a Washington Redskins team that prevailed over the Bucs.
49ers' Lewis Suffers 3rd Concussion Of Season

San Francisco strong safety Michael Lewis sustained his third concussion of the season, going down during the 49ers' game against Atlanta early in the third quarter trying to tackle Justin Turner.

Lewis, who sustained two concussions during an 11-day span in the preseason, concussions during an un±

Vick Takes Over As Eagles QB

PHILADELPHIA — No gimmicks. Michael Vick was in as the quarterback for the Philadelphia Eagles in the fourth quarter of a blowout against Tampa Bay on Sunday.

Vick had been used in the wildcat formation since he was reinstalled. But he got his chance behind center in place of Donovan McNabb with the Eagles ahead 31-14 late in the fourth quarter.

He completed a 1-yard pass to DeSean Jackson on his first play. After an incomplete pass, Vick scrambled for 11 yards on third down.

Warriors Suspends Jackson 2 Games

LOS ANGELES — The Golden State Warriors suspended Stephen Jackson for two exhibition games Saturday after the unhappy captain left the bench during an exhibition contest in Los Angeles.

The veteran swingman picked up five fouls and a technical in less than 10 minutes Friday night while playing against the Lakers at the Forum. After an apparently testy exchange with coach Don Nelson when Jackson's frustration was evident on the bench, Jackson went to the locker room and was escorted. It wasn't immediately clear whether Jackson was sent to the locker room or went on his own. The Warriors only said Jackson was suspended for "conduct detrimental to the team."

Jackson has made it known he wants to get away from the Warriors, unhappy with the franchise's decline after its 2007 playoff run and he's getting increasingly insistent about it. He was fined $25,000 by the NBA last month for publicly acknowledging he would welcome a trade, and hasn't backed down from the stance in recent interviews.

Shaquille O'Neal is in Cleveland to help the Cavs bring home a championship, but he's already looking to take on a second job.

The Cuyahoga County Sheriff's office confirms that O'Neal met with Sheriff Bob Reid Wednesday about becoming a special deputy.

"I have no idea what you're talking about," a Cavs executive said when asked if he's considering becoming a deputy sheriff.

"Undercover officers are never allowed to talk about what goes on, sorry," O'Neal says, before smiling again.

O'Neal has served as a deputy in other NBA cities where he has played. The Cuyahoga County Sheriff's office says it must see if O'Neal needs any additional training to become a special deputy. Some special deputies have arrest powers. Asked if he might stand out as an "undercover officer," O'Neal, who is well over seven-feet tall and weighs well over 300 pounds, dead pana: "No. You would never see me." Then he laughs again.
SAN FRANCISCO — Top-ranked Tiger Woods completed an undefeated week by defeating Y.E. Yang, 6 and 5, in singles play Sunday at chilly Harding Park Golf Course to clinch The Presidents Cup for the United States.

Woods finished the event with a 5-0 record, becoming just the third player to ever win a singles match. Woods' four wins in the event tied a Presidents Cup record.

The 19.5-to-14.5 victory by Woods over Yang ranked Tiger Woods confidence in his game. Yang entered the week ranked 32nd in the world, but Woods finished the event ranked No. 1.

"That's a long time coming," Woods said. "I've been playing good against some good players, and it finally came together. It's just nice to be in front of a hometown crowd like this and to have a good week."

Woods' win was the final match of the week, and it clinched the Presidents Cup for the United States. The Americans have won the event twice since they started competing in 1994, and Woods has been a key player in both wins.

"It's great to have won the event," Woods said. "I've been working hard on my game, and it's nice to see it come together."

The Presidents Cup is a team event between the United States and an international team that includes players from Europe, Asia, and South America. Woods has won the event three times in his career, and he has been a key player in each of those victories.

"I'm proud to have been a part of this team," Woods said. "It's been an honor to compete with the best players in the world."

The Presidents Cup will return to the United States in 2021, and Woods said he plans to continue competing in the event for the foreseeable future.

"I'll be back," Woods said. "I love playing in the Presidents Cup, and I'll be back to defend my title next year."

"The mother of a 20-year-old and a 16-year-old, Ms. Tre said her personal life has definitely impacted her career, but never stopped her. "It really gave me more strength, and giving my life to God really made the difference. He implanted in me the visions to be successful."

Former Flight Attendant Sues Oprah

Soulja Boy Tell’em Arrested For Running From Police

ATLANTA — T.I. didn’t need to attend the BET Hip-Hop Awards to win two trophies on Saturday. The rapper, who is locked up in an Arkansas penitentiary on a federal weapons conviction, won the best collaboration award with Rhianna for the song “Live Your Life” and the album of the year award for “Paper Trail.” His fiancee Tamika “Tiny” Cottle accepted his awards at the ceremony in Atlanta and read a letter by the rapper, who began serving a yearlong sentence in late May.

“Although I’m not there with you all, I’m still living this spirit,” Cottle quoted the rapper as writing. “My road to redemption is almost over… Thanks for the support.”

Jay-Z was honored as the “MVP of the Year,” while Drake took home “Rookie of the Year,” and Ice Cube received the “I Am Hip-Hop” icon award.

Ice Cube said he was bum­bled by the award, and he believes his career as filmmaker could earn him more honors in the future. He helped launch the gangsta rap genre with the group NWA, and he starred in “Barbershop” and “Friday,” which he also co-wrote.

“When you get recognized by your peers for a life of work, you got to be hum­bled,” the rap veteran said. “I’m honored by this. I have 20 more years of work left in me. I hope (BET) is ready to give out two of these awards.”

The award show will air on Oct. 27.

Students To Be Given Swine Flu Shots At School

BY IRIS B. HOLTON
Senior City Editor

The Hillsborough County Public School District expects to begin administering H1N1 (Swine Flu) vaccinations on Monday, October 19th. Forms seeking parental permission will be sent home this week.

During the school board meeting last week, Ms. MaryEllen Elia, Superintendent of the Hillsborough County School District, said no child will receive the vaccination without returning the form signed by a parent or legal guardian. Additionally, parents will be required to be present for elementary level students to receive the medication.

“We will require that a parent or guardian be present. The vaccination of elementary school children will take place after school hours, and they will occur at a designated high school near them,” Ms. Elia said.

She further stated that the parents will be informed where the shots will be given and during what hours.

Students in middle and high school who return the signed permission slips will be vaccinated at their respective schools. The vaccine will also be made available for school district employees who want to take the vaccine.

The H1N1 virus has been linked to more than 600 deaths in the United States. H1N1 flu, known as swine flu, is a respiratory infection caused by an influenza virus first recognized in spring 2009.

More than 100 residents in Florida have died from the virus.

New Pipelines And Hydrants In Service Near East 22nd Avenue

Residents near East 22nd Avenue in Tampa now have a new City amenity - fire hydrants. The City of Tampa recently installed ten fire hydrants along 22nd Avenue, 43rd Street, 46th Street, Hudson Street, Dodge Street and Cord Street as part of its 22nd Avenue Water Pipeline Replacement Project.

Residents in the area used to receive water from two-inch diameter distribution lines that could not support pressure and flow requirements of fire hydrants. Those undersized pipelines have been upgraded with six and eight-inch diameter pipelines, improving not only water pressure and service reliability for residents, but also improving fire protection with the installation of fire hydrants.

Fire Department Pioneers New Diagnostic Protocol

The Temple Terrace Fire Department has initiated a new concept to save lives, becoming the first department in Florida to equip its rescue units with ultrasound technology. The portable Sonosite MicroMaxx Ultrasound machines will allow paramedics to diagnose internal bleeding and other life-threatening injuries at the scene.

This will provide emergency responders with critical information needed to select the correct treatment facility or trauma center.

Temple Terrace Fire Chief Keith Chapman came up with the idea after seeing severely injured patients second-guess paramedics, either refusing treatment or insisting on being taken to non-trauma facilities.

The devices are used primarily in trauma situations, such as major traffic crashes, where internal bleeding or lacerations to the kidneys, spleen or liver can occur.

Man Charged With Arson, Attacking Deputies

Terry Banks

Early Monday morning, Hillsborough County Sheriff’s deputies responded to a call of a deliberately set brush fire near a home in the 9800 block of East Fowler Avenue.

Deputies said Terry Banks, 49, used gasoline and a lighter to start the fire, targeting an unidentified woman who lives at the same address as Banks.

When deputies arrived at the home, they reported that Banks tried to block their way to go into the home to check on the woman. A violent brawl began and Banks allegedly punched one deputy in the chest and another in the face. He also reportedly tore the radio from the shirt of a deputy.

After deputies were able to subdue Banks, they found a large knife in his pocket. When he was put in the rear of a patrol car, he kicked the door, damaging the window, and twice spat at one of the deputies, the report said.

Banks remains in jail on charges of obstruction, two counts of battery on a law enforcement officer, depriving an officer of means of protection, criminal mischief, carrying a concealed weapon and second-degree arson.

She said the three men are in their 30s, and one was described as a white male, work-style van with no markings that may have had letters X, P and T.

Police said the three men are their 30s, and one was described as a white male with long, dark hair and a mustache. The second suspect is described as a Black male with shoulder-length dreadlocks. The third suspect is a Black male with a thin build and close-cropped hair.

Police are reviewing surveillance video to see if it contains any clues to the identity of the suspects.

Anyone with information is asked to call the Tarpon Springs Police Department at (727) 937-6151.

Trio Sought In Sexual Assault

Pinellas County - Tarpon Springs Police are searching for three suspects who pulled a woman into a van and sexually assaulted her in the parking lot of a Tarpon Springs shopping center.

According to police, the woman was leaving the Kmart in the Tarpon Square Shopping Plaza Saturday afternoon when a white van parked next to her car.

Police said three men pulled the woman into the van and sexually assaulted her. They then let her out of the van and drove off.

The van was described as a white, work-style van with no markings that may have had a ladder on the roof. The tag may contain the characters X, P and 7.

Police said the three men are in their 30s, and one was described as a white male with long, dark hair and a mustache. The second suspect is described as a Black male with shoulder-length dreadlocks. The third suspect is a Black male with a thin build and close-cropped hair. Police are reviewing surveillance video to see if it contains any clues to the identity of the suspects.

Anyone with information is asked to call the Tarpon Springs Police Department at (727) 937-6151.
