BY IRIS B. HOLTON
Sentinel City Editor

Several people voiced concerns over comments recently made by a Mayoral candidate. The most recent comment deemed offensive took place at a public forum on Wednesday night.

During the forum sponsored by the Young Democrats and Emerge Tampa, the question, "If you were elected Mayor tomorrow what would you hire the person to your left as in your administration?" was posed to all five candidates.

Ms. Yvette Lewis, who attended the forum, gave the following account.

"Ed Turanchik sat to the left of Rev. Thomas Scott. Rev. Scott responded, "I would give him a job over Mass Transit."

"Rev. Scott sat to the left of Dick Greco. Greco responded, "I would make him my driver."

"There were only about six Blacks in the audience and all of the whites laughed. I turned around and said that the comment wasn't funny. Rose Ferlita came and apologized for the comment and I told her she had nothing to apologize for, she didn't make it."

Ms. Lewis said she then went to Greco and said, "You can't keep saying these types of things about African American people. Is this how you really feel?"

Ms. Lewis said Greco responded that he didn't mean any harm and that he would never say anything racist. She said he also pointed out the number of African Americans he hired during his past administration.

Dr. Carolyn Collins, President of the Hillsborough County Branch NAACP said, "I didn't attend the forum, but I was contacted about the comment. It was an inappropriate comment just as the comments about comparing the riots of the 1960s to a party raid. I think both comments were insensitive and disrespectful."

When contacted by the Sentinel, Rev. Scott said an earlier question had been if they all went out to a bar together who would be the driver and everyone said it would be him (Scott) because he doesn't drink.

However, Rev. Scott said the forum had taken on a serious tone later when the question was asked about hiring the person to your left. Rev. Scott said, Greco did not answer that question, but repeated the answer to the question about the bar.

"It wasn't an appropriate comment to make and it was offensive to me and to other young professionals who came up to me after it was over. It showed a lack of respect not only to me, but to the community.

"We are talking about someone running for mayor. The mayor sets the environment and culture for the entire city. After the comment was brought to his (Greco) attention, he did apologize," Rev. Scott said.

Mr. Greco said that his comment was a carryover of a previous question.

Mayoral Candidate Says No One Is Less Prejudice Than He

Mayoral candidate Dick Greco told the Sentinel he does not have a "prejudice" bone in him. He said it is sad that someone would use a statement at a mayoral forum to get votes.

The Sentinel reported in a separate article that a statement Greco made at a forum hosted by the Young Professionals offended candidate Thomas Scott.

Greco gave the same answer to a question from the panel that he had given a few questions earlier. When the group was asked which of the candidates would drive home after an evening at a bar, all said Thomas Scott because he is a preacher.

A few questions later, the panel asked if you're elected what would you have the person to your left to do in your administration. Greco admitted that he stated, "drive me home from (a local bar)." But no harm was intended.

It's after the forum, Greco said, that a lady who he did not know, came up to him and made comments about his racist statements. "I had no idea what she was talking about. I told her that no one is less prejudice than me. I even gave her my cell phone number and went on to share with her all the things I accomplished in my administration."

"Then I learn the next day that Rev. Scott says it was offensive. I've had a heart forever, I've never been prejudiced."

"It's said that someone would use that to get votes," he said.

Commissioner Still Not Satisfied With ‘No Finding’ Ruling Against County Attorney

BY IRIS B. HOLTON
Sentinel City Editor

Last week, the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) and the Hillsborough County State Attorney’s Office released a much-anticipated report on an investigation concerning the county government. The report stated there was no criminal wrongdoing and they would not seek prosecution against two top-level officials.

However, earlier this week, Commissioner Kevin Beckner, who initiated the original investigation, called for an administrative probe by the County Commissioners. Beckner initially acted alone to seek criminal charges although other commissioners felt it was more of a policy violation.

In a telephone interview, Commissioner Beckner said, “There are issues throughout the report concerning administrative procedures and behavior that I think need to be addressed to close out this issue. ‘There are many facts that are so glaring that not to discuss them would be negligent on my part as an elected official.’”

Commissioner Beckner further stated that a copy of the 250-page FDLE report has been provided to all of the commissioners and he wants them to review the facts and, “Determine if any administrative wrongdoing has taken place. And what if any actions should be taken. That would be the discussion of the board.”

The discussion has not been placed on the Commissioners’ agenda yet. When asked if any further action would be considered double jeopardy, Commissioner Beckner stated that both employees were placed on paid leave and that would be another issue that the board would discuss. However, Ms. Bean’s employment still needs to be closed out.

“It’s not anything personal or race-based, but I have to consider my responsibility as an elected official,” he said.

Last March, Hillsborough County Commissioner Beckner requested the FDLE conduct an investigation into allegations of wrongdoing. Both FDLE and the State Attorney’s Office had conducted independent investigations.

The report stated that although questionable judgement was used pertaining to the raises, no criminal acts had been committed.

On March 23, 2010, the Commissioners voted to suspend both Attorney Lee and Administrator Bean with pay pending outcome of the investigation. In June, as the end of the 90-day suspension drew near, the board voted 6-1 to fire Administrator Bean, and 5-2 (with Beckner and Sharpe voting no) to allow Attorney Lee to return to work.

The Big Four Dilemma

Tell us it's a lie. But what we hear is that the family of Hydra Lacy, Jr. is being punished by the City of St. Petersburg. If what we hear is true — that Hydra Lacy's family was refused use of a City-owned facility and was told, point-blank, "the city wanted nothing to do with them" — then we must cry "Foul," and weep tears as bitter as have been wept in times of war and death. Murder of a man can lead to its own brand of murder.

And though we hasten to forget words spoken hastily by both Mayor Bill Foster and Police Chief Chuck Harmon should publicly accept the Lacy family's honorable expression of regret. If not for the mayor and the chief themselves, then for the City of St. Petersburg, so that the queenly lady of Tampa Bay may heal and her people may become whole, once again.

Something New From Mississippi

Maybe, it began when a member-in-good-standing of the local Ku Klux Klan got an idea that his so-called Grand Old Lodge, its founder, former Confederate general Nathan Bedford Forrest, should be memorialized by placing his likeness on license plates throughout the state.

The result of such petition has been politely lost in the annals of Believe It or Not!

However, here recently, the Mississippi Klan has risen again with a new plan to bolster its immortality. Say members of that so-called Grand Old Lodge, its founder, former Confederate general Nathan Bedford Forrest, should be memorialized by placing his likeness on license plates throughout the state.

The result of such petition has been politely lost in the annals of Believe It or Not!

Sentinel Editorial Board Endorsements

The Sentinel Editorial Board met with 28 of the 31 candidates running for Mayor and City Council. Every seat on City Council is up for grabs, as well as the changing of the guard in the Mayor’s office. This is by no means time for anyone in our community to stay home and not vote.

We have an opportunity to elect our first African American mayor, as well as 2 African Americans on City Council. Low aim, not failure is the crime, so whether you agree with our choices or not, please vote. The issues of history demand we decide what is best for ourselves and our families.

City Council District 1 (Citywide)

This seat was held by retiring Council person, Gwen Miller. Curtis Stokes jumped into the race after serving as an interim Councilman. Stokes is articulate, well rounded and is willing to serve all of the people. He has served on numerous boards, and as the president of the NAACP. He is qualified and deserves our support.

Curtis Stokes

City Council District 2 (Citywide)

Well, Mary Mulhern has supported our community on most issues, but has disappointed us on one in particular. However, she is a person who feels strongly about communities as a whole, and will change her stance if she is convinced that her position is not what’s best for that neighborhood.

Mary Mulhern

City Council District 3 (Citywide)

This very crowded race gave the Board a challenge. The candidates for this seat went from the VERY CONSERVATIVE to the very moderate. We were impressed by Dr. Jason Wilson and Michael Ciftci. Although City Council is not about Democrats or Republicans, it is obvious which side of the fence these candidates are on. After much discussion we liked Michael Ciftci, best. He is young, energetic and excited about the possibilities of serving our communities. Young people are our future, and we feel he would serve us well.

Michael Ciftci

City Council District 4

This is the old seat held by John Dingfelder, and represents the South Tampa, Port Tampa, and Manatee area. Harry Cohen stood out among this very passionate race. Adherent about serving his own district as well as the entire community, his vision and experience in politics will keep the Council on top of people issues.

Harry Cohen

City Council District 5

District 5 has had an African American on the Council since single member districts were formed. However, this could change if we don’t go vote. Frank Reddick served as an interim City Councilman before challenging Thomas Scott for the seat. Reddick has been a community activist and leader for a long time and gets along well with others. He will do what is needed within our community.

Frank Reddick

City Council District 6

In spite of attempts to discredit this young man, Kelly Benjamin is a young man who has had many of the same experiences young people in our community have faced. He has vision and energy. He’s running against Charlie Miranda who has not supported the African Americans in his district. Mr. Miranda did not meet with our Board this time.

Kelly Benjamin

City Council District 7

Lisa Montelione is a businesswoman, a volunteer and has a lot of good ideas that would help change things in city government. Dean Hade and Charles Perkins could be reached to interview with our Board, so it leads us to wonder how responsive would they be to their constituents. Joe Caetano who presently holds this seat seemed out of touch and tunnel visioned.

Commissioners Approve Contract For Children's Board Director

BY LEON B. CREWS
Sentinel Staff Writer

On Wednesday, the Board of County Commissioners voted 5-2 to approve an interlocal agreement with the Children's Board of Hillsborough County in the amount of $148,117 for the contractual services of Donald L. Dixon.

Dixon is to serve as the Children's Services Division Director of Family and Aging Services.

Dixon won't have hiring and firing power and is not a county employee. Commissioner Kevin Beckner said he felt having outside eyes looking into Children's Services is a great idea.

"However, I want it understood that the Children's Board is loaning us Dixon's services. I think hiring them as an independent contractor would have been a better idea."

County Attorney, Renee Lee, said the decision to take this action was because of the expertise Dixon has shown in performing his tasks.

"This is much like a consultants contract."

One of two commissioners who voted against the contract, Les Miller, said he felt there was work that needed to be done on the contract.

"There are some holes in it. I think there are problems with it, especially how it's structured."

Attorney Lee said an option would have been to contract directly with the Children's Board and take out direct references to Dixon.

"We could allow the Children's Board to appoint who they want."

The second dissenting vote came from Commissioner Victor Crist, who also said he wasn't happy with the way the contract was structured.
Non-Profit Group Reaches Out To Seniors

When Richedean Hills-Ackbar founded Caregivers’ Helping Hand 10 years ago, her idea was to create an adult day care facility. “I also wanted young people to do volunteer work at the facility. My vision was for the youth to be mentored and educated by the seniors as they provided aid for them.”

Ms. Hills-Ackbar said she later decided to provide services to all seniors at no cost where they live, instead of creating a day care facility. “We perform an array of services for seniors, like making sure their yards get cut, and cleaning up their yards. We try to prevent them from dealing with the city’s Code Enforcement investigators, because they feel threatened that they could lose their homes if they don’t comply.”

“We’ve also found out that it’s important to do follow up visits with the seniors to make sure they have continuous service.”

Ms. Hills-Ackbar said among their volunteers are youth from area high schools and from the Department of Juvenile Justice.

“We also partner with the University of South Florida to do some repairs and painting to the homes of seniors.”

Ms. Hills-Ackbar said they are currently looking at eight houses, four of them in the Highland Pines area.

“I’m proud to announce we will be hosting an event on Saturday, February 26th with actor Danny Glover.”

The event will be a breakfast held at the Blues Ship/Good Luck Café in Ybor City. Breakfast will be served from 8 a.m. until 10 a.m. and the event is free.”

Alvin Ailey Dance Theater Performs Before Sold Out Audience

BY TAMECA JOHNSON
Freelance Writer

Thousands turned out Tuesday for the one night only performance of the Alvin Ailey Dance Theater at Ruth Eckerd Hall in Clearwater. The sold out crowd enjoyed timeless Ailey pieces such as the mesmerizing classic Revolutions, which recently marked its 50-year performance anniversary, and newer numbers that included the world premier of The Hot Summer Night, set to the music of David Byrne.

Tampa resident, Brandi Wilkerson attended the performance with a group of friends. It was the first time she’s seen an Alvin Ailey production. “I just thought the bodies in motion, and then the music just brought it all to life.”

The sold out crowd enjoyed the performance, and was especially thrilled with the recognizes face in the dance company is Judith Jamison. She joined as a dancer in 1965 and currently serves as artistic director. Jamison plans to retire this year, but will remain connected to the Dance Theater as Artistic Director Emerita. The Alvin Ailey Dance Theater has performed before millions of people, including world leaders across the globe.

NAACP To Host Discussion With Mayoral Candidates

The Hillsborough County Branch of the NAACP has joined forces with several community organizations to host a discussion with the candidates campaigning for the Office of Mayor of Tampa. On March 1st, voters will be asked to vote for a Mayor and all 7 City Council seats.

The forum will take place on Saturday, February 19, at 10 a.m., at the Carver City/Lincoln Gardens Civic Association, 1512 N. Clark Avenue.

Another Inconvenience For Black Commuters

For the past few years, African Americans in East Tampa have been inconvenienced by road closures and detours. The real problem has been that these closures have lasted months.

The City of Tampa Water Department has issued an alert to citizens that Sligh Avenue between 50th Street and River Grove Drive will be closed for system repairs.

The roadway will be restored Monday evening. Citizens have been inconvenienced with the closure of 22nd Street from MLK Boulevard to Lake Avenue since September 2010. The Enhancement Project along that stretch of road is scheduled to be finished in March with a dedication ceremony planned for March 16th.

Tampa Native Receives Promotion To Lt. Colonel

BY IRIS B. HOLTON
Sentinel City Editor

When Willie Davis entered the U. S. Army after graduating from high school, he was searching for his future career. He found his future in the military.

He was recently promoted to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel in a ceremony held at the military base in Landspuhl, Germany, where he has been stationed for the last three years. His wife, Mrs. Consandra Christopher Davis, and their sons, Chandon and Camdyn, attended the ceremony.

A Tampa native, Lt. Col. Davis is the son of Mrs. Willie Mae Davis Lane and the late Solomon E. Davis, Sr. He graduated from Tampa Bay Technical High School in 1985. While in school, Lt. Col. Davis was a member of the ROTC.

After 5 years as an enlistee, he decided to pursue a career in the military. He enrolled in the Green To Gold Scholarship Program and attended college at Fort Valley State, earning his B. S. Degree in Education. He continued his education and received his Master’s Degree in Procurement and Acquisitions Management from Western University. He has been a member of the U. S. Army for 22 years, 16 of which he has served as an officer.

Lt. Col. Davis said he doesn’t feel that promotions come from man, but from God. “I feel my steps are being ordered by the Lord. He guided my path and put me in the spotlight at the right time.” In God’s word, He states that my future will be brighter than my past. This truth has been realized time and time again in my life. Although I didn’t take the road he initially planned for me, the final destination remained the same – success! My family and I are truly blessed,” he stated.

Although he is unsure of his next assignment, Lt. Col. Davis said he is slated to return stateside for his next tour of duty.

Lt. Col. Davis enjoys exercising, jazz, and spending time with his family. The family attends Vogel Military Gospel Service Church.
State Representative Betty Reed said she was offended by the remark, but said nothing at the time because it was more important to have a productive dialogue.

However after the luncheon, she said Scott assumed that everyone in the room was poor and that can only be because you're Black.

On an hour during the lunch, lawmakers opposed Scott's plans to end state support for two historically black colleges, to abolish a state office that helps minority-owned businesses get state contracts, and to lower unemployment benefits, and health care funding for the poor.

Black legislators also are concerned Scott has not appointed any Black agency heads and they asked him to stop using the term "Obamacare."

On other issues raised by the group, Scott said on the lack of diversity in his appointments, it is philosophy, not skin color that plays a part in his decisions. He said he doesn't believe in quotas and made reference to Jennifer Carrol, the Lieutenant Governor, saying he selected her because she was the best person he could find, not because of the color of her skin.

Governor Rejects High Speed Rail Funding

On Wednesday, newly-elected Florida Governor, Rick Scott, announced he is rejecting federal funds to build a high-speed rail in Florida. Close to $2.8 billion in federal dollars had been earmarked for the project. Scott said the three main reasons he rejected the funds was construction cost overruns would put taxpayers on the block for $3 billion; low ridership would end up requiring state subsidies, and if the project were shut down, the state would have to return the $2.4 billion to Washington.
COGIC Convocation Kicks Off With Musical Saturday

BY TAMECA JOHNSON
Freelance Writer

The countdown is on for the much anticipated Holy Convocation of the Southwestern Jurisdiction of the Church of God In Christ. The Convocation gets underway in Tampa this weekend at Brown Memorial COGIC, with performances Saturday night by Gospel singing sensation Vanessa Bell Armstrong and the more than 100 strong COGIC Jurisdictional Choir.

The Convocation also marks the long awaited debut of Elder Peter Henfield, the newly appointed Minister of Music for the Jurisdiction of Southwestern Florida, under the leadership of Jurisdictional Prelate, Bishop Matthew Williams.

Elder Henfield has strong ties to the Tampa area. The Miami native and Florida A&M graduate spent 28 years as an employee of Busch Gardens, performing and arranging numerous musical shows for the park. His most recent work at the park were the arrangements for its popular Gospel Christmas Shows.

Elder Henfield says people planning to attend the upcoming Convocation can expect great things. "Put your seatbelts on, because the choir is dynamic. We have well over 100 voices this year. And our song selections are very powerful."

Elder Henfield says the transition from Busch Gardens to working full-time with COGIC has been seamless, thanks in part to musical directors, Elder Parris Hill, Minister Rarmando Bickum, Minister Steve Marshall and his family. "My family has been incredibly supportive, in particular, the love of my life, my wife, Sharon."

Elder Henfield hopes his tenure leads to a broader outreach within the region. "There are so many gifted singers and musicians that are out there lying dormant, even in our own jurisdiction. We want to invite them in. When we put them all together, I'm expecting to see a 500 voice choir! It's not about the numbers, but we have room for everyone."

The Convocation takes place Saturday, February 19 through Sunday February 27. Presiding Bishop Charles E. Blake is the featured speaker Thursday, February 24. Brown Memorial is located at 2915 E. 27th Avenue, Tampa, and is under the leadership of Bishop Matthew Williams. (See advertisement in this issue for additional information)

Youth Day For Children Who Stutter

Never heard of a speech party? That's what one child calls the Annual Youth Day for Children Who Stutter now in its third year at the University of South Florida. And it's one party he can't wait to attend. The people involved say it's always emotional, but also supportive and uplifting and not to be missed.

The Feb. 26 event at USF's Marshall Student Center will provide what people who stutter often say affects them most, the knowledge that they are not alone. That goes for their family members and caregivers who also have a chance to participate. It all happens through fun activities and basic education about stuttering and modern-day speech therapy. Lunch, cake and ice cream and a chance to hang out with USF's Rocky the Bull add to the festivities. The fee for professionals and students can be waived, but parents should RSVP as soon as possible to Nathan Maxfield at nmaxfield@usf.edu or call (813) 974-6190.

SAMANTHA

Well, look whose back! As this week's Spotlight feature we decided to answer the wishes of hundreds of callers and let you get another look at Samantha. If you missed her Tuesday, here's a recap. Samantha lights up every room she enters with her smile, energy, and honest wit. She also wants to be an aspiring business woman in the future, but for right now, she'll just continue to work hard and pay her dues. Samantha is not all business, as she does enjoy spending time with her friends. She also enjoys posing before the camera and doing other things to make sure she has maximum exposure to anyone interested in helping her pursue her dreams. When it comes to the man in her life, Samantha said he must be as serious as her family members and caregivers who also have a chance to participate. It all happens through fun activities and basic education about stuttering and modern-day speech therapy. Lunch, cake and ice cream and a chance to hang out with USF's Rocky the Bull add to the festivities. HANOI, Vietnam — Joe Jackson, father of late king of pop Michael Jackson, was in Vietnam to attend Monday’s groundbreaking ceremony for a five-star hotel and amusement park called ‘Happyland.’

Jackson, 82, was at the groundbreaking as one of the investors in the $2 billion, five-star, 1,000-room hotel and amusement park in southern Long An province, located about 20 miles outside Ho Chi Minh City.

It is scheduled to be finished in 2014, and is designed to attract up to 14 million visitors annually.

“I like discovering different cultures in the world,” Jackson. “I like this project the most because it is located in a beautiful cultural and natural space.”

Prison Rep Denies O.J. Simpson Beadown

O.J. Simpson may be serving a 15-year sentence in Nevada for planning a heist on two sports memorabilia dealers back in 2007, but for now that is the height of what some claim to be his karmic debt. The National Enquirer recently reported he had been "brutally beaten" by a racist fellow inmate at the Lovelock Correctional Center. The report included inmates cheering as a "skinhead" pounded the former NFL star resulting in injuries bringing him near death. However, a representative for the Nevada Department of Corrections tells GossipCop the rumors are false, saying there was "no incident at all." That guard pulled O.J. from his cell just to tell him about the crazy rumors and that he found it hysterical and laughed uncontrollably. How does a racially motivated beatdown turn into no incident at all? Maybe it was a look-alike.

The 38-year-old stepped out to awaiting fans and promised to not only return but to "never ever" leave again.

The Rock will host WrestleMania XXVI at the Georgia Dome in Atlanta, Ga., on April 3.

Seymour, Raiders Agree To Terms On Two-Year, $30M

Richard Seymour said late last season he wanted to retire as a Raider. The 31-year-old Pro Bowl defensive tackle took a step in that direction Wednesday when he agreed to terms on a two-year, potential $30 million deal that includes $22.5 million in guarantees, according to a league source.

Seymour, who is entering his 11th season, is expected to receive $15 million each of the next two years, including a guaranteed $7.5 million bonus in 2012. His signing was critical for the Raiders not only because it locked up a talented player and locker-room leader.

‘Happy Birthday, Ma’
Man this is tough. Birthdays, holidays. I wish Heaven had a phone so I could hear your voice again. I thought of you today, but that’s nothing new. I thought of you yesterday, and days before that, too. I think of you in silence and often speak your name. All I have now are memories and pictures in a frame.

Woman Charged With Grand Theft In Filing False Grant

KALANDA BOSTICK

The Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) arrested Kalanda Bostick, 35, Wednesday charging her with grand theft.

The Southwest Florida Water Management District offers annual mini grants for school programs to teach students about the conservation and protection of water resources.

Investigators reported that in September 2010, Bostick, who does not have an operational school or any students, submitted a mini grant request containing false information to the District, who alerted FDLE.

Bostick, reportedly requested approximately $3,820 in funds she was not entitled to receive. According to investigators, Bostick allegedly requested the funds for personal use and not for any program to assist children.

Bostick was booked into the county jail and later released after posting a $2,000 bond.

Arrest Made In 2009 Case

JUAN TURNER

Hillsborough County Sheriff’s deputies took Juan Turner, 32, into custody Tuesday on a charge of second-degree attempted murder.

According to reports, on August 12, 2009, Sherree Bodden, 26, and Turner were outside of their residence when they got involved in a physical altercation. During the altercation, Turner allegedly picked Bodden up and slammed her twice on a cement sidewalk. He then reportedly strangled her to the point she became unconscious.

Deputies said Turner and Bodden lived together as a family for a while.

Bodden was hospitalized after the attack and was treated and later released.

After the attack, Turner fled the state and was found in Newark, New Jersey where he was taken into custody January 13, 2011 and later transported back to Hillsborough County.

Turner, according to jail records, is being held under a bond of $8,250.

Closing Arguments Begin In Reggae Star's Drug Trial In Tampa

Buju Banton (right) and his friend Gramps Morgan, are seen leaving the courthouse after his testimony Wednesday.

On Thursday, closing arguments began in the drug trial of reggae star, Buju Banton (real name Mark Myrie).

On Wednesday, Banton took the stand to testify that a government informant pressured him about a possible drug deal.

Banton said the informant called him constantly after they met on a flight in July 2009 and insisted they meet to set up a cocaine buy.

Banton said he was ashamed for talking as much as he did about drugs with the informant. He also claimed he never intended to deal in cocaine.

Banton is facing several cocaine charges for the second time in federal court. In his first trial, the jury deadlocked. If convicted Banton faces up to life in prison.

Jamaican musicians Stephen Marley and Gramps Morgan testified on Banton’s behalf Wednesday.

During Banton’s testimony, he underwent intense grilling by prosecutors, causing him to lose his cool by raising his voice. He also volunteered information prosecutors used against him.

Although the questions were intense, Banton was still passionate in declaring his innocence.

Banton was given a Grammy award for his latest release.

Murder Victim Identified 12 Years Later

CHAD E. GRIFFITH

...identified after 12 years as John Doe

Thanks to a curious dispatcher in Ohio, the identity of a man killed 12 years ago has been revealed.

Chad E. Griffith was killed on November 9, 1998 during a robbery involving cocaine at 9508 North 13th Street. Police said he was shot in the back of the head.

At the time of the murder, Griffith was known as John Doe until last Friday.

Griffith, then 20, was from Marion, Ohio.

Samuel Hewitt, then 14, was convicted in the killing. Robert Hewitt, then 16, was convicted of tampering with evidence.

Griffith’s mother reported him missing two years after his death and again in 2006.

The Ohio dispatcher was viewing a missing persons database. And found descriptions that pointed to Griffith, including a heart tattoo on his left hand.

He gave the information to police.

Hillsborough County Medical Examiners determined that fingerprints from Marion, Ohio matched those on file in Tampa of the John Doe.

Griffith’s mother, Brenda Bautista, now living in Winter Haven, Florida, was called and told about the fate of her son.

Authorities said it is not clear why Griffith was in Tampa. It was initially speculated that he may have come to Florida to be close his mother.

“Building On A Firm Foundation”

Many are the sorrows of the wicked, but steadfast love surrounds the one who trusts in the LORD.
Psalm 32:10

Jesus Is Love! Jesus Is Liberty!
The Greatest Servant

We live in a day and time when people are concerned about position, status, and titles. There are many who covet the limelight; they love to be recognized. For the church, this must not be the case. The work of the church is for the glory of God and His Kingdom.

Mark's gospel as recorded in 10:45-48, which serves as this week's lesson, tells what it means to be a servant. Servant hood is not about your position, title, or status. Being a servant is about positively impacting the lives of others. Working for someone else to improve his or her quality of life. We are not servants of man, but servants of God towards man.

Jesus was approached by two of His disciples requesting that He do for them whatever they ask (vs. 25). If you approach someone and say, "I want you to do for me whatever it is I am about to ask you", they will say something to you that translates to, "It all depends on what it is." For some people they believe that people and God should do whatever they ask them to do. Why do they think this, who knows, but they do. You can tell they feel this way because of the way they act when you tell them NO.

But Jesus just asked them, what do you want me to do (vs. 36)? Jesus does not have to fear our request as we must be cautious about what we agree to do. People may ask us to do some things that we are not capable, able, or qualified to do. But Jesus knew that there was nothing they could ask that He was not able to accommodate.

They wanted SEATS! Of all the things they could have asked Jesus for in the Kingdom, they wanted seats next to Him. They wanted people to see them when they looked at Jesus. They wanted to be there when people would inquire of the Lord.

There are some people in the church today who just want seats. They want position, SEATS. They can't do anything, but just sit there; look cute, just sitting there; wanting people to cater to them when they walk in the room.

Jesus in turn asked them a question. You want to sit where I sit, but are you willing to do what I have to do to sit where I am sitting? Jesus is saying to church, you can and shall have what I have, but you must be willing to endure what I have endured and will endure.

People want the blessings of God, but are not always willing to do what needs to be done to get them. They see the seat but they don't know the true cost to sit in them. They think they know what Jesus has endured, but they have not seen anything yet.

You can want the blessing but are you willing to give up your life for it? You can be blessed, but are you willing to forsake all others for it? You can have the anointing, but are you willing to fast and pray for it. To sit where He sits, you have to be willing to serve those who will in return lie on you, talk about you behind you back, and even betray you.

Are you willing to leave your mother and father, and go serve those in drug houses and the prisons? You can have the seat and the blessings, but are you willing to fix dinner for the people on your job who you know are trying to get you fired?

Jesus said to them that whoever wants to be the greatest must be servant of them ALL. You can't be a good servant of God if you only want to serve those you like. God is not looking for servants who only want to serve those who helped them get in the position. The greatest servant is the one who serves them ALL. That is why Jesus can sit in the seat next to His Father, because He came to serve US ALL!

Racial Incidents Shake University Of Alabama

In less than a week, two racially charged incidents that were witnessed by few, but now have been discussed by thousands have shocked the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa to publicly decry racism on campus.

On Friday, a member of a white fraternity shouted racial epithets from inside the group’s house at passing student Justin Zimmerman, who is black. The fraternity member, whose name has not been released, reportedly called Zimmerman a “nigger,” then called out, “come here, boy.”

SHIRLEY SHERROD

A former Department of Agriculture employee who was forced to resign last year after the posting of a misleading video has filed suit against Andrew Breitbart, the conservative blogger who posted it.

Shirley Sherrod’s suit was filed in District of Columbia Superior Court on Monday. The civil suit accuses Breitbart of “defamation, false light and infliction of emotional distress,” according to a statement issued by the law firm representing her.

“This lawsuit is not about politics or race,” Sherrod said in the statement. “It is not about right versus left, the NAACP or the Tea Party. It is about how quickly, in today’s internet media environment, a person’s good name can become ‘collateral damage’ in an overheated political debate.

“I strongly believe in a free press and a full discussion of public issues, but not in deliberate distortions of the truth,” Sherrod said. “Mr. Breitbart has never apologized for what he did to me and continues — to this day — to make the same slurs about my character.”

Obama Would Beat Jeb Bush

WASHINGTON -- Some Republicans continue to hope Jeb Bush will get off the sidelines this presidential election, but a new poll out Monday indicates that President Obama would soundly defeat the former Florida governor.

Obama outpaces Bush by a 54-34 percent margin in a hypothetical head-to-head matchup. That’s a significant uptick for the president from a September poll that indicated that Obama would only beat the younger brother of former President George W. Bush by a spread of eight points.

The release of the poll comes two weeks after Bush was featured on the cover of conservative magazine The National Review along with a story that hailed the former governor as a “can-do conservative reformer.” In an interview with the magazine, Bush emphatically closed the door to a run in 2012, though left open the possibility of a White House bid in the future.

Civil Rights March Goes To State Legislature

RALEIGH, NC — Education, jobs, criminal justice and voting rights were on the agenda as marchers rallied in downtown Raleigh Saturday morning.

Demonstrators in the 56th annual HKOnJ — or Historic Thousands on Jones Street — marched from Shaw University to the state legislature building on Jones Street. The rally was organized by 107 civil rights, religious and other groups.

The state chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) said 4,000 people participated. State Capitol Police, however, estimated the turnout at 1,000.

Demonstrators and speakers pushed a 14-point agenda, emphasizing education, the economy and criminal justice system.

Cooking on a budget doesn’t have to mean eating food you don’t like. With the right approach, it is possible to put great meals on the dinner table without busting the budget.

Try some of these money-saving strategies and recipes:

- Tossing out leftovers is like tossing out money. Turn last night’s pasta into today’s pasta salad; or combine leftover potatoes, chicken and vegetables for a simple and savory pot pie.
- Ground sausage, chicken, turkey or beef are great to buy in bulk. You can divide your purchase up into one pound portions and freeze them so you can use them as you please.

Reuben Casserole

1-24-ounce package mashed potatoes
2 eggs
1/4 cup milk
1/3 pound thinly sliced corned beef cut into 1/2 inch pieces
1 tablespoon spicy brown mustard
1 cup shredded Swiss cheese, divided

DIRECTIONS: Preheat oven to 400°F. In large bowl, stir together potatoes, eggs and milk until well combined. Stir in corned beef, sauerkraut and mustard. Set aside 2 tablespoons cheese. Stir in remaining cheese into potato mixture. Pour into a greased 8 x 8-inch oval baking pan. Top with 2 tablespoons cheese. Bake 15-20 minutes or until top is golden.

Sausage Cheeseburger Pizza

1 pound sausage roll
1 12-inch prepared pizza shell
1/4 cup yellow mustard
2 cups shredded mozzarella cheese
1/2 cup chopped onions
15 dill pickle slices
1/4 cup shredded cheddar cheese

DIRECTIONS: Preheat oven to 425°F. Crumble and cook sausage in medium skillet until browned; drain well on paper towels. Place pizza dough on lightly greased 12-inch pizza pan or baking sheet. Spread mustard over dough; top with sausages and onions. Place pickle slices evenly on top; sprinkle with cheddar cheese. Bake 12 minutes or until crust is cooked through and cheese is bubbly. Cut into thin wedges or squares and serve hot. Refrigerate leftovers.

7 Steps To Healthy Teeth

Want to keep your teeth? Follow these surprising tips:

1. Break a sweat - Exercise lowers the risk of gum disease.
2. Power up - Use a high-quality electric toothbrush with a small head, they’re optimized to remove plaque.
3. Go beyond floss - If your gums recede (as even healthy gums can), interproximal brushes, which look like tiny pipe cleaners, may work better than floss, which can miss plaque on a root.
4. Wait to brush - It takes 30 minutes to an hour for saliva to neutralize the acids in foods. Brushing right after eating can brush the enamel away.
5. Watch your gums - Insist that your dentist examine your gums with a probe. If the gum pocket surrounding a tooth is deeper than 3 mm, you might have gum disease.
6. Get off the bottle - Many bottled waters lack fluoride. Consider adding a fluoride rinse can help.

Folic Acid

Low levels of Vitamin B is linked to age-related hearing loss. To help avoid this, take 400 IU of folic acid daily.

Prevent Metabolic Syndrome

Having three or more of the following health issues could be a sign of metabolic syndrome, a condition that raises the risk of heart attack, stroke and diabetes.

1. A waist size greater than 35" for woman and 40" for men.
2. Triglyceride levels of 150 or higher.
3. HDL (good) cholesterol of less than 50 in women and 40 in men.
4. Blood pressure of 130/85 or higher.

Halting Diabetes

Replacing trans fats, soybean and corn oils with extra-virgin olive oil reduces chronic inflammation, dampens sugar cravings and lowers your risk of insulin resistance and diabetes within a two week period.

Castile Soap

Using Castile Soap can be very beneficial. It removes germs as effectively as antibacterial products, speeds wound healing, moisturizes the skin and cuts inflammation by 58%.

Everyday Places Germs Lurk The Most

The average adult comes in contact with as many as 30 germ-harboring, high-traffic surfaces a day, such as light switches, doorknobs, phone receivers, and the remote control. Which ones are the worst?

1. Restroom Door Handles.
2. Lemon Wedges. 70% of the lemon wedges perched on the rims of restaurant glasses contain disease-causing microbes.
3. Grocery Carts. Swab the handle with a disinfectant wipe before grabbing held (stores are starting to provide them, so look around for a dispenser).

Overworking Is Bad For Your Heart

Putting in long hours at the office may help achieve satisfaction at your job, but a new body of evidence indicates that working 10 or 11 hours a day substantially increases the risk of serious heart problems, as opposed to clocking out after seven hours.

Here are a few tips to help slow down your inner workaholic:

• Require downtime.
• Take care of yourself.
• Manage your time effectively.

The 4-1-1 On Dental Emergencies

Part I

It’s not always easy to know whether a tooth, gum or mouth problem requires emergency care or how to handle the situation. But generally speaking, the following are considered dental emergencies:

• Lip or tongue bite with excessive bleeding. If you accidentally bite your lip, tongue or other soft tissue in your mouth, clean the area and apply a cold compress to decrease swelling. If the bleeding is severe, or will not stop, seek emergency care immediately.

• Broken or cracked tooth. In the case of a broken or cracked tooth, call your dentist immediately. Until you can get to your dentist’s office, rinse your mouth with warm water and apply a cold compress outside the affected area.
Attack Arthritis

Have a handful of boron-rich raisins, prunes or almonds every day to better your chances of becoming arthritic. Boron helps your body build stronger joint tissue.

---

Places Germs Breed In A Plane

Part 1

GERM ZONE: Water
FOR: E. coli, a common culprit behind stomach cramps
Airplane water has been under review by the EPA for traces of E. coli for six years.

GERM ZONE: Seat Pocket
FOR: Cold and Influenza A, B, and C viruses
Reaching into that pocket is akin to putting your hand in someone else’s purse and rummaging among their used tissues and gum wrappers.

These few things might help you have a better day:

- Snack on a handful of almonds and cut fatigue by 89%.
- Have a cup of green tea to counteract energy-sapping anxiety.
- Stretch at your desk to raise your heart rate, unkink tight muscles that cause you to breathe more deeply, which increases the flow of oxygen-rich blood through your body.
- Pal around with peppy, positive people because they can lift your spirits and energy.
- Try an energizing herbal supplement like rhodiola rosea to fight fatigue, lethargy and if you’re having concentration problems.

---

Cut Your Risk Of Breast Cancer!

Easy lifestyle changes can help to reduce your risk of developing breast cancer.

- Eating a cup a day of antioxidant-rich beans helps to keep breast cells healthy.
- Getting a little sun every day will boost your level of cancer-fighting Vitamin D.
- By eating Soy or Edamame daily, which contains plant estrogens, will crowd more damaging estrogens out of the breast tissue.
